THAT TARIFF BILL HAS UPSET HIM

He Listens, but Has Very Little to Say About It.

SPEAKER CRISP GOES TO SEE HIM

Failure to Sign the Bill Which the Democastic Party Passed May Cost the Party Several Congressmen.

Washington, D. C., August 23,-(Special.)-The relations between President Cleveland and the democratic senators and represen tatives are becoming seriously strained. The president is silent and sullen as to the tariff bill. He is unwilling to sign it and, The democrats are urging him to approve the bill. They say that they cannot essfully defend a bill on the stump which a democratic president refuses to approve. The members of the democratic mpaign committee assert that the reusal of the president to approve the tariff bill will lose the party thirty or forty memhers of the next house and perhaps several senators. Ugly talk is indulged in. The democrats allege that the president is being influenced by personal spleen instead of patriotic consideration.

Mr. Cleveland, however, declines to dis cuss the question. He is being urged to a message, even if he will not sign it, approving the measure so far as tends to ignore the bill and for this irse he is being criticised. Speaker Crisp s very anxious that he should sign the ing. He will call there again tomorrow. Mr. Wilson is also urging him to affix his signature but up to this hour the chairman of the ways and means committee is in absolute ignorance as to the real intention of the president, save his inference that the bill will be permitted to bcome a law in this half hearted way.

had seen Mr. Cleveland today the former's committee room became at once the Mecca which republicans and democrats alike turned their footsteps, in order to learn the president's intentions. All of the number were disappointed, so far as any positive information was concerned, for all the speaker would say was that the president would probably allow the bill to become a without his signature. He said the president had not told him what he should do, but from his general conversation regarding the bill the speaker made the fore-

A LIVELY COLLOQUY

Over the Report of the Committee on Alleged Armor-Plate Frauds.

Washington, August 23.—The one item of Interest in the proceedings of the house today was the animated colloquy between Mesars. Cummings, democrat, of New York, and W. A. Stone, republican, of Pennsylvania, over the report of the committee on naval affairs upon the investigation into the alleged armor-plate frauds. The report was accompanied by a joint resolution, which was agreed to, directing the secretary of the navy to have plates now on certain ships removed and subjected to ballastic tests to determine their quality. These are the plates in which defects were shown, in the investigation, to have existed, and the tests were suggested to determine whether or not they are up to the contract requirements.

whether or not they are up to the contract requirements.

Mr. Stone asserted that the Carnegie company, while just as anxious for the investigation and tests as the house committee has not yet been accorded fair play in the investigation.

This aroused Mr. Cummings, who made a spirited response, declaring that the Carnegie company's interests had been more carefully attended to in the investigation than those of the navy department, which had also, he said, been on trial.

One or two private bills were passed, and, at 1:10 o'clock, the house adjourned until tomorrow.

On the roll call only thirty-four sen

Then there were four republican senators present who declined to answer when their names were called. These were Messrs. CALIFORNIA DEMOCRATS Effect an Organization and Draft s Platform.

Sen Francisco, Cal., August 23.-The dem cratic state convention met shortly after 10 o'clock this morning for the third day's session. A permanent organization was effected and the platform and resolutions presented. The platform endorses Cleveland's administration and the silver plank in the national platform of 1892, favors the election of United States senators by the people and urges the construction of the Nicaraguan canal. It also protests against any attempt to extend the time of payment of rallroad debts to the government, and requires a written pledge from all senatorial and congressional nominees to oppose any efforts in that direction.

In the convention a resolution endorsing President Cleveland's Hawaiian policy in attempting to peaceably restore the queen to her throne, and denouncing the action of the republican administration in acquiescing in the overthrow of a friendly power and assisting it in the maintenance of a revo-

So Says Report but the War Depart.

Omaha, Neb., August 23.-(Special.)-An important order has been made by the war department. The department of the Platte has been transferred to Savannah, Ga., and will be there established under another name. The troops here will remain at Fort Crook, which will be attached to the department of the Missouri, with headquarters at Chicago. The affair has been kept quiet as the removal will not be a small loss to this city. A vigorous attempt is being made to secure a reversal of the order. G. L. Miller, collector of customs, and E. Martin, a leading politician, have gone to Washington, but the attempt will almost certainly fail.

Jeffersonville, Ind., August 23.—Liman Parks, twenty years old, son of Dr. Floyd Thomas Parks, director of the Indian prison, south, lost his eyesight yesterday through the explosion of a pneumatic tire of his bicycle. Parks was en route to Corydon, when in some manner the air tube of his wheel exploded. After having adjusted a new one, Parks commenced to inflate the tube, and this, too, exploded. Fragments of the tire struck Parks in both eyes, from the effects of which he has become totally blind.

Pope Writes a Letter Telling Why Declares That the Strike Was Forced He Drops Out.

DISAPPOINTMENT GOES VERY HARD

The Doctor Hoped to Win, but Finally It Dawned on Him That He Was Not

Columbia, S. C., August 23.-(Special.)-The fates continue to play into John Gary Evans's hands, and today he is the one man left in the field for governor. Dr. Sampson Pope arrived in the city this morning and handed to the press a letter announcing his withdrawal from the race. He also withdrew from the executive committee his pledge as a candidate to abide by the result of the democratic primaries.

Dr. Pope was one of the original reformers. Nine years ago, when Tillmanism was in its infancy, Pope was being ridiculed as a "three-for-a-quarter" statesman on account of his advocacy of various "reforms in the state, and he has been one of the most extreme and unrelenting in his antagonism to the anti-Tillman element. In the present campaign he adhered to his advocacy of Tillman's policy, but finding that under the Colleton plan, or reform convention, the cards were stacked for John Gary Evans, he declared when the campaign was half over that he would ignore the convention and trust his cause to the entire democracy. For the reasons given in his letter and for the additional reason that he could have commanded no general support, from the anti-Tillmanites, he would have stood no chance in the primaries. It is said that Dr. Pope is in anything but a pacific humor with the governor, and it is also said that he has even positively refused to go to the governor's house when invited.

The elimination of Dr. Pope is not necessarily the ending of the campaign. The air is laden with speculation about an independent candidate to run through to the general elections in November. Thousands of people regard the democracy as "busted." In several co:unties independent tickets for the legislature are certainties, and there are hints of an attempt to reorganize the democracy without recognition of its Tillman leaders.

No one has the right to predict that Dr. Pope will be an independent candidate for governor, but no one affirms that he will

The following is Dr. Pope's letter.

"To the Democratic Voters of South Carolina: I am in receipt of numerous letters state notifying me that hundreds of reformers desire to vote for me, but that vote has not yet been gotten out. The truth is, the machinery of the reform movement is in the hands of 'the ring,' and voters are so much afraid of the party lash that whilst they are willing and anxious to vote for me they are afraid to allow their rames despotically they are ruled. Under this state of things it will be impossible for me to get out a ticket in the majority of counties; and, herefore, it will be foolish for me longer to continue in the race for governor. I have this day withdrawn my pledge from the state executive committee and take this opportunity to say that I will not be a candidate at the primary.

"Forty thousand reformers and 32,000 conservatives are virtually disfranchised 'and 14,000 ringsters dictate who shall hold the offices. I saw the danger of this and when the conservatives, in a desire to perpetuate white supremacy in this state and to con-ciliate the majority with a view to peace, proposed that if they were allowed to cast their vote for one of the four reformers running that they would be satisfied, I thought it a fair and honorable proposition and one which did them great credit, and advocated its acceptance. Their offer was refused at the dictation of a few blind leaders who were puffed up with their im-portance, without regard to the peace and general welfare of the whole people. The conservatives, I must say, have shown in this, and in gracefully submitting since 1890 to the rule of the majority, a spirit worthy of emulation. Their treatment has been simply outrageous, and was enough to drive them to desperation.

Asks His Friends to Cut Evans. "In retiring from this canvass I desire to thank those friends who have stood by me all over the state, especially those in Darlington, who had the manhood to come out and endorse me. I cannot forget the members of the press whose treatment of me, with the exception of three or four weeklies, has been magnanimous in the formers who did not yote in the late socalled primary—if you vote, refrain from voting for governor at the primary on the 28th instant, and thus put your seal of condemnation upon the ring methods which have been employed. Cut off that portion of the ticket embracing the names of the delegates, or run your pen through their names. You have a right to do this, and only vote for members of the general assembly and county officers. Very respectfully, "August 23, 1894."

Captain Stevens Injures Spectators at a Sham Battle. Meridian, Miss., August 23.—(Special.)—Fully ten thousand people assembled at the enclosed grounds this afternoon to witness the sham battle by the State Na-tional Guard, which is composed of twelve companies. Several pounds of powder were burned and a credible display was made. Several serious accidents occurred on the grounds, caused by the reckless use of guns.

Captain R. R. Stevens, of the United States army, who is stationed in Wetumpka, and who was ordered here as instructor, was mounted and endeavored to push a crowd of spectators back by riding rapidly along the line. Women and children were knocked down and trampled upon by his horse. Efforts were made by some gentlemen to dismount him, but he succeeded in escaping. Orders were issued by the city authorities to arrest him. Strong Teeling exists in the matter.

THE ROCK ISLAND LOST $1,000,000

This Company Owns a Half Interest in the Pullman Cars It Uses-Incidents of Chicago, August 23.-General Manager St. John, of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railroad Company, appeared as a voluntary witness before the national labor committee this morning. Mr. St. John testified that the Rock Island road had 12,517 employes. He then read a series of briefs covering the strike on the Rock Island road from day to day.

"Our first trouble," said Mr. St. John, occurred June 29th. At this time a meeting of a few Rock Island employes and many outsiders was held on Blue Island avenue. A motion was passed to strike. all participating in it, whether railroad employes or not. The meeting was addressed by Debs, Howard and others, and it was the beginning of the strike on our road. No official notice was ever given to any officer of the Rock Island road that the employes intended to strike, and no notice was ever given the road to discontinue hauling Pullman cars."

Manager St. John then read a list of men giving their employment, who were at the Blue Island meeting already referred to and who voted for a strike though unemployed by the railroad. Among there men were tailors, plumbers, bartenders and oth-

"Fully two-thirds of these men were not employes of the railroads," said Manager St. John, and he cited the names of several persons present by whom he claimed he could prove his assertion. He then de-tailed the incidents of the strike, telling how several trains were stopped, how engines were repeatedly cut off and switches thrown open by men alleged to be strikers, and how men who wished to work were inmidated and forced to stop work whether they wished to or not.

The witness declared that the local autorities at Blue Island were in sympathy with the strikers and interfered with the officers of the Rock Island railroad on several occasions. He said the police of Blue Island on several occasions arrested offi-pers of the road and once tried to arrest Marshal Arnold himself.

Strikers as Deputy Marshals. Deputy United States marshals," con-tinued Mr. St. John, "as a rule, rendered good service at Blue Island, but it was discovered that twenty-seven of the marshals were striking switchmen sworn in by the order of President Debs, of the American Railway Union." Manager St. John gave dates, names and minute details of various alleged interfer-ences with trains by strikers. The instances were numerous. He scored the Chicago police force and declared they often stood idly by and permitted overt acts. He cited fires by the score and declared that in some cases those who tried to put them out were shot at. New men were waylaid on the to appear on a ticket. This is a deplorable streets and beaten, and the road on July 8th deemed it inexpedient to sen employes, fearing they would be killed. By July 12th the trouble began to abate, and by July 16th everything was quiet. "The total number of men who actually struck was 522, the rest being intimidated," said Mr. St. Johns. "The total number reinstated was seventy-four. About 5,000, men were out altogether. All the men have been re-employed again whom there were no charges against."

"You state in your reports," said Chairman Wright, "that in many cases the men engaged in these riots were strikers. How do you know this?"

"From reports made by our employes." "Has the Rock Island railroad ever in-creased the wages of its own violation?" "I think it has."

"Can you call to mind any cases in which this was done?"
"I cannot. If this has been done it has related to individuals and not to the employes in general."

Has No Blacklist. In regard to blacklisting, Mr. St. John said the Rock Island road had no blacklist beyond debarring an employe dismissed on one division of the road from working on another part of the same road. He as ways treated its employes with the greatdoors of the officials from the president down are always open to the humblest employe."

When asked about the relations bewee the Pullman company and the Rock Island road, Mr. St. John tendered the committee the contract but asked that it be kept from the general public.

After conferring, the committee refused to take it on these terms. The Rock Island company owns a half interest in all its Pullman cars, by the contract, the Rock Island is obliged to operate Pullman cars strike or no strike.

Manager St. John fixed the losses of his pany, during the strike, at from $800,-000 to $1,000,000, including damage to property. "We have many idle Pullman cars since the close of the world's fair," said the witness, "and I think this was the case on all the roads. A consequent sessation of car building ensued. He then gave figures to show that the Rock Island earned but $200,000 during the world's fair, and said this did not cover the cost of the additional equipment necessary for world's fair busi-

When asked whether the Rock Island recognized the American Railway Union or not, Mr. St. John declared the company had never had an application from that had never had an application from that body. As to deputy marshals, he testified that those selected by the Rock Island were to be paid by the United States, but he did not think they had yet received their money for protecting Rock Island property.

Fire Marshal Kenyon Testifics.

Mr. St. John was excused until 1.20 o'clock, and Fire Marshal Joseph L. Kenyon, who has charge of the district from Fifty-fifth street to Fullman, took his place. He testified that 832 cars had been burned

He testified that 822 cars had been burned in his district during the strike.

At 1:30 o'clock Mr. St. John resumed the stand. It was announced that Chief of Police Brennan would follow him at 2:30 o'clock p. m.

Mr. St. John resumed the stand at the opening of the afternoon session. He stated that about 475 men engaged in the late strike had applied for work on the Rock Island road and had been informed that the company could not use them. He cited several cases where the company had of its own volition increased wages. He corrected his statement of the morning that the government paid deputy marshals who protected Rock Island property, saying the company paid them. "Engineers and firemen were sworn in as deputy marshals."

"These latter wore the star of the United States?" asked Mr. Kernan.

States?" asked Mr. Kernan.
"Yes, sir," the witness answered.
"It is fair to presume that a large proportion of the rioting and burning of cars was done by hoodlums and not by railroad men?" asked Mr. Wright.

"We believe that the strikers did nearly all of it," answered Mr. St. John.
All knowledge of a book containing a blacklist and distributed among the various roads was denied by the witness.

The witness told how the general managers had referred the containing a strike the strike that the strike that gers had rejected the overtures of the American Railway Union to declare the strike "Why did you refuse to consider this;" asked Mr. Kernan.

The general manager said it was because the association did not want to recognize the American Railway Union. "Is it not true," asked Mr. Kernan, "that if a strike occurred on a road belonging to the association, your association would unite to defeat the strikers?"

"Well, then, why did not the General Managers' Association recognize the right of the American Railway Union to organize men in a common cause, when one part of the American Railway Union was being af-

"We did not believe these men who were destroying our property were worthy of recognition."

Manager St. John argued against a state board of arbitration, and Mr. Kernan vigo-rously advocated such a body in his series of cross-examinations.

HE WAS BOUND TO PAY THEM. Governor Matthews Mortgages His Farm to Pay the Troops.

Indianapolis, Ind., August 23.-Three Indianapolis banks—the Merchants' National, Fletcher's and the Indiana National—ad-vanced $40,962 to Governor Matthews yesterday to pay off the state militia for ser vices during the riots at Hammond, Ind., in the mining region. There was no regular fund in the state treasury from which the amount could legally be drawn, and State Auditor Henderson, on the advice of Attorney General Smith, declined to issue varrants without a special appropriation by the legislature to cover the amount. It is understood that Governor Matthews mort-gaged his fine stock farm in Vermillion county to the banks in order to secure the loan. He will appeal to the next legis-lature to reimburse him. While the gov-ernor has little reason to fear he will lose anything in the end by his self-sacrifice there is a bare possibility his action will cost him the amount of the loan. If the farmer and populist elements should show up as strong in the fall election as they claim they will and have the controlling vote in the legsilature, there will result a serious fight over the question of allowing

SHUTDOWN OF THE MILLS. The Publication of the Agreement

Was a Surprise. Fall Rivers, Mass., August 23.-The publication of the agreement to shut down the Notices of the shut-down were malled las night, but it was the intention to keep the whole thing a secret today. The executive committee is unwilling to give out the text of the notices to the public. It was agreed that when the three-fourths of the spinners, represented by the signers to the order, should decide to order the pursuit of a certain course the others would stand by the order that was issued. Tonight, therefore, it is confidently expected that every mill in town will close except the Canonicut, the Barnaby gingham, which has been shut down, and the Fall River Iron Works Mills and the Seaconnet, which are not in the Manufacturers' Association. The Seaconnet mill is running on the reduced schedule and may be compelled to shut down by the help who may stay out. The King Ph.lip, American linen, Metacomet, Pocasset and other mills that are wholly running or partially fule, are expected to close with the rest. There will be 22,600 op-eratives out of work, exclusive of 2,500 who are known as sick help. Secretary O'Donnell, of the Spinners' Union, is well pleased at the decision arrived at by the manufacturers. It relieves him and the union from a very trying position, in which the funds were seriously threat-

The weavers, of course, are in high glee, as they have obtained the curtailment for which they were seeking. The length of the shut-down has not been agreed upon, but it will depend on the attitude of the operatives and the conditions of the market. Four weeks is the longest time mentioned, but there is no guarantee that it will not last a longer period. The committee of the Manufacturers' Association has demonstrated that there is a hers supposed existed, for at noon today it was confidently believed that every signer would stick to the last. Even Agent San-ford, of whom the manufacturers are talking very harshly, has concluded to close the Globe yarn mills, and the Sanford Spinning Company will also remain closed. Among business men and others the big Nearly $150,000 weekly will be taken out of circulation and there is always a great risk in trading among operatives when a shut-down takes place. Some will pay their old debts but others will not, if they can avoid it by removing to other places.

The State Board of Arbitration. New Bedford, Mass., August 23.—The fourth day of the great strike opened with a new element in the battle-the state board as ever, apparently, neither inclined to yield one iota. The board of trade arbitration committee has failed to accomplish much and now the only visible hope for a new settlement lies in the meeting under Mayor Brownell's call tonight. Of course this applies more directly to the cloth mills, as there are hopeful signs for an adjustment or a break in the yarn mill battle.

The Banks of Which He Was President Are All Right-His Friends Think He Fell Over the Rail.

Richmond, Va., August 23.-(Special.)-Colonel James Monroe Winstead, one of the most prominent citizens of Greensboro, N. C., and president of both the Pledmont and the People's banks of this city, ended his existence today by either jumping or falling from the clock tower of Richmond's new city hall. Friends and relatives who arrived here this evening think that Colonel Winstead, who was subject to attacks of vertigo, walked out on the corridor nearly a hundred feet above the street, became dizzy and fell over the balustrade which came up to his waist. The more general impression, however, is that it is a clear case of sulcide and all the circumstances bear out this idea. Colonel Winstead arrived here yesterday afternoon and retired soon after supper. He seemed to be very nervous at breakfast this morning and impressed most hall as being in a state of great excitement, When told it was too early to be admitted to the tower, the visitor stroked his gray beard with trembling hand and said he would not harm anything and was anxious to get a look at the city before leaving at Reaching the base of the tower, Colonel Winstead removed his shoes, and these, together with his hat and cane, preceded him on his fatal downward flight. Only two thud as his lifeless body fell upon the sharp pointed fence which guards the area to the hall. The head and body hung down-ward inside the iron fence and over the mouth of the area. It was suspended from one of the sharp spears which had caught the left leg just at the hip joint as the body fell face downward, and the force of the fall had torn it entirely out of its socket. The head was gashed across the scalp and there were bruises upon the forehead and nose. The chest was fear-

The friends of Colonel Winstead are unable to assign any reason why he should have desired to take his own life. His banks are both in good condition, and his nephew, Mr. E. W. Winstead, who arrived tonight from Milton, N. C., says none of his private affairs are in condition to see tonight from Milton, N. C., says none of his private affairs are in condition to se-riously trouble him. In an unmailed letter found in his pocket addressed to his broth-er, Colonel S. Winstead, of Roxboro, he used this language: "My land company business is worrying me no little, but we are likely to get it in better shape."

Once in Business in Atlanta Colonel Winstead was a native of Person county, North Carolina, and was seven-ty years old. He had been in business at different times in Danville, Va., and Atlan-ta, Ga., and was, at the time of his death, interested in a large number of enterprises. He was president of the Henry P. Scales Tobacco Company, of Atlanta, of which his wife's son is secretary and treasurer. Among the papers found upon him were three notes of this concern for $2,500 each, and a check for $15,551.88 drawn by him August 18th, in favor of the tobacco company. Colonel Winstead late in life married pany. Colonel Winstead late in life married Mrs. Scales, who survives him without issue. He was a prohibitionist, and made good run for congress a few years ago. SAYS HE WAS KIDNAPED.

Up by Politicians. Palatka, Fla., August 23.—(Special.)—B. W. Helvenston, of Live Oak, a delegate from Suwanee county to the second district democratic convention which has been in session here for two days, created a big sensation this morning by having three Jacksonville men arrested on the charge of kidnaping. He says that they induced him to take several drinks with them early last night and then, under promise of driving him to the room where the committee on credentials was in session, they persuaded him to get into a closed carriage with them. Helvenston saw that they were going in the wrong direction and when they reached a lonely spot on the outskirts of the city, he demanded that they drive him back to the committee three Jacksonville men arrested on the the outskirts of the city, he demanded that they drive him back to the committee room. They refused and held him-forcibly in the carriage. Then he screamed for help, and they gagged him Finally, he says, he promised to vote for the seating of the Bans-Stockton delegates in the convention and they drove him back to the hall. The Negro Arrested Here for Pace Is

Chattanooga, Tenn., August 23.—(Special.)
The negro arrested in Atlanta a few days since by Patrolman Harris on the supposition that he was George Pace, a secro murderer who is badly wanted here, is not the right one. He was brought to the city yesterday by Detective Haskins, of the local force, and was placed in the city jail. He came without a requisition and was confident that he could prove that he was not the man wanted. Today a number of people who knew Pace called at the jail and all suic that he was not the man. He was released this afternoon. The local others are much chagrined, as Pace has a desperate character and if caucht would surely hang for his crime, which was a brutal murder.

THE SALARY QUESTION

It Is Figuring Largely in the Present City Race.

THE PROHIBITIONISTS LAST NIGHT

Two Wards Willact Tonight-No New Candidates in the Race for the Various City Offices. ing city primary is yet more than a month off the people are growing more and more interested in the situation every day. Tonight there will be ward meetings in two of the wards, and in both wards candidates will be suggested for the consideration of the voters at the primary, whether that primary takes place on the 28th of ber, or on October 3d.

And if talk goes for aught the meetings will, in both wards, show quite an antagonism to the ticket put out by the fifty-eight at the city hall.

The candidates for aldermen, councilmen and city officers all combined have a large number of friends who are willing and ready to do all that can be done to further their cause. Among these candidates, and especially among those who are out for the city hall offices there is an opposition to anything looking to a reduction of salaries rule the men who are As a rule the men who are elected to the council—either branch of it—are able to do the work assigned to them without receiving one dollar of pay. In other words the amount of salary is nothing to them. But with the officers who have the work to do, salary is something to be considered, for, as a rule, their living depends upon that

The committee of fifty-eight, which put out the gentlemen who are before the peo-ple, adopted a resolution requiring the members then suggested as candidates for the council, if elected, to vote for a resolution reducing the salary of the members of the general council and to see that a resolution reducing the salaries of the city officers was adopted. That resolution, calling for the systematic reduction of salaries, was adopted, and none of the gentlemen who were mentioned for aldermen and councilmen have so far indicated that they are not pleased with the platform upon which they were put before the people by the fifty-eight.

But it has caused a great deal of talk, and many of the candidates for council and aldermen, as well as candidates for the city offices, have asserted that they would not vote for any one who accepted a nomination on that platform.

Especially among the candidates for the city hall offices has a strong opposition to the ticket shown itself. The candidates, however, are a little chary of the manner in which they will make the fight, because they are cognizant of the fact that in an they may incur the opposition of the friends candidates and the candidates themselves.

"You are aware of the fact,' said one of the candidates yesterday, "that none of us who may win, want to go into office with the knowledge that our pay is to be cut. The salaries now are small enough, and the work hard enough. The truth is the resolution was put there for political purposes, and we all know it. None of us-at least that is my information-can afford to vote for a man for council who will begin his work by trying to reduce our pay."

"Then to show," continued the gentleman, "that the whole thing is a piece of electioneering, let me say to you that the charter says that the city council shall fix the salaries of the city officers at the first creeting of the general council in October The charter fixes that as the date for the change, and no change or fixture of salaries can be made before that time. Then what was the use of introducing that resoin the city council at the last meet-The gentleman who handed it in knew that by the charter no action could be taken before the first meeting in Octo-ber. The only object I know of was to let the people see that the ticket set out at reduction it will require that paper to lay in the hands of the committee on salaries until the first meeting of the council in October, when it will come up without the resolution just as though the resolution had never been written. I am of the opinion that a resolution reducing the salaries of the members of the general council will be adopted, and that the pay will be put back to $200, as it was before. But if that salary committee and the members of the counc and the people generally investigate the matter they will never seek to reduce the salaries of the officers. The more the matter is investigated the less liability there is of a reduction of salaries in the city hall."

The salary committee of the general coun mittee waich fixes the salaries of not only all the city officers which have heretofore been elected by the general council, but fixes the salaries of the members of the body to which they belong. At the first meeting in October they report the ount of money to be paid to each man who draws pay from the city government, and that fixture lasts during the term for which he was elected. The salary com-mittee now is composed of Mr. Martin, chairman, Mr. Stockdell and Mr. Howell. It is said that Mr. Martin had made up his mind yesterday to submit a report at the next meeting of the general council favoring a wholesale reduction of salaries and that Mr. Stockdell would sign it, while Mr. that Mr. Stockdell would sign it, while Mr. Howell was wholly opposed to anything of the kind, holding that position, however, altogether on the ground that the time for fixing the salaries had not yet arrived and that when it did arrive there would be sufficient time to determine the question The position taken by Mr. Howell cause Mr. Martin, the chairman of the committee

The reduction of the salaries, which are now $600 a year for the aldermen, and the councilmen makes the anxiety of persons for the office less acute. Fifty dollars a month is good enough to work for, but when it is reduced to $200 a year there are not so The Prohibition Club Meets.

to hesitate and tear up the resolution

The Atlanta Prohibition Club met last night at their hall on Whitehall street. The meeting was largely attended not-withstanding the rain, and the work of the evening was interesting.

Eon. A, J. Shropshire, president of the club, was present, and of course occupied the chair. The present situation as it appeared to the members of the club was discussed at length, and the names of the candidates who were put out at the clib was didates who were put out at the city hall meeting, were looked over. The meeting, however, did nothing of a definite character, the larger part of the session being given up to the proposed reduction of salaries and the contemplated change of the date of the primary from the 28th of September to the

It was more a meeting of fellowship for the comparison of notes on the situation than anything else, and nothing else was done.

After quite a talk the meeting adjourned subject to the call of the president, if in his opinion, a meeting was necessary before the next regular meeting, which takes place the first week in September. At the next meeting of the club, however, there will more than likely be some interesting features. At that time the members will have made up their minds as to their choice for the positions to be filled and some candidates may be given a thump while others may be given quite a good turn.

store, corner Wheat and Jackson streets.

Dr. Martin was made chairman of the meeting after Hon. Billy Dimmock had called the house to order, and Mr. Ed Blue was made secretary. The talk of the meeting was on the coming race, and the trend of those present was a mass meeting at which a candidate would be named to be voted for at the coming primary. No names, however, were mentioned, but the talks indicated that both Captain Miller and Mr. Smith had a good following in the ward and that the contest would be a warm one. A resolution was adopted which gave a warm and strong endorsement to Mr. Porter King for the mayoralty. While it was only a resolution, it was received when introduced and carried through with so much force that it indicated that that ward was warmly Mr. King's. King's.

To Meet Tonight.

To Meet Tonight.

The third end the first wards will open the work tonight in earnest.

In both wards there will be meetings of the voters, at which it is more than likely there will be selections for candidates for councilmen and an expression of opinion as to aldermen.

The meeting in the third ward will be held in a vacant store on Hunter street at the corner of Martin, and the indications are that it will be largely attended. It is said that the voters will pass a reso-

The meeting in the first ward will be of the same character and when the two meetings are over the nucleus of another ticket will have been made. The Fifth Ward Has a Powwow.

Nearly one hundred registered voters of the fifth ward came together last night and began arranging for a meeting in that ward, at which a selection of a candidate for council to be voted for at the primary will be made. The meeting discussed the opening of Alabama street and reference was made to the money the city council appropriated to that work two years ago. It was decided at the meeting that all of the candidates in the city would be questioned relative to the open-ing of the street and that no one who was in favor of the opening and would not pledge himself to help secure the desired end would be supported. Mr. C. P. Johnson, of the third ward, who had asserted by the meeting and arrangements for the coming ward primary were left to a com-mittee named by the chairman.

The day developed no changes in the candidates for aldermen, councilmen and city hall officers other than is shown in the regular announcements printed else-

MR. HARRY LYNAN DEAD.

He Breathed His Last Yesterday After noon at 6 O'clock.

Yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock Mr. Harry J. Lynan, for many years a well-known ticket broker, died at his residence, 227 South Pryor street, in this city.

Mr. Lynan was a thorough young business man and was considered at one time the most progressive and energetic young man of his age in Atlanta. The cause of his death was consumption. He acquired the disease about a year ago and the malady grew apace with such rapidity that no skill could either arrest or check it. The news of Mr. Lynan's sad death will read this morning with profound sorrow all over the city. No young man was more deservedly popular. He was generous to a fault and even his failings were those of friendship and generosity. After leaving the Boys' High school in 1881, Mr. Lynan began to shift for himself and entered the ticket office of Mr. R. D. Mann in the old Kimball house. He afterward became a ticket broker on his own account and opened an office on Wall street, renting a small partition from Mr. John B. Daniel, the wholesale druggist. He continued in the brokerage business until about three years ago, when he became interested with Mr. A. J. McBride in Nantahala and Tal-

Ward. Ward.

Editor Constitution—It is fortunate not only for the people of the third ward, but for the satira city, that the opportunity is presented of securing the services of such a sterling business and practical man as the well-known lumber dealer, popular and public-spirited citizen, Mr. W. S.

Beil.

For many years Mr. Bell has been engaged in the lumber business in Atlants in building up the city and giving employment to the people and ward. For the first time and in response to urgent requests, has become a candidate to represent his ward in the general council. His high character as a citizen and his splendid business qualifications are well known, and when such a man is willing to offer as a candidate he deserves and should receive the support of his ward and the entire city. His name will be submitted to the third ward meeting to be held from 6 to 10 colock this (Friday) evening at White & Kilne's hall, corner of Hunter and Martin streets.

They Pass Cut and Dried Resolutions Denouncing the Election.

HONEST MAN'S LEAGUES ORGANIZED

A Senatorial Investigation of the Recent Election Is Requested—No Trouble Is Expected to Follow the Meetings.

Montgomery, Ala., August 23 .- (Special.) Today down in Raimer, in this county, a few Jeffersonians met and passed the stereotyped resolutions issued by the Kolbites, Jeffersonians and populists, sent out from Birmingham several weeks ago.

The resolutions are of a revolutionary character. They called upon the conglom erites to know if they are determined to be free, and if so to meet on this day in each county and by their action declare so by organizing themselves into leagues, whose object will be to enforce honest elections now and forever in this state. In winding up the resolutions say: "If you are willing remain slaves to the black belt thieves and heroes, publish it by your action then and there. The question as to whether the writer is to be governor or not is of small concern. In the very nature of things he will soon passs away and be forgotten, but upon your action of the 23d instant perhaps depends the right of generations to come, have and enjoy the blood-bought freedom your fathers gave you. Again let me urge you to meet and act and speak out in no uncertain tone. Your action will determine my action and, as in the past, I will be with you until the end."

The same resolutions were passed by the populists in Elmore, Bibb, Chilton, Shelby, Coosa, Tallapoosa and thirty or more other counties. Just what the outcome of this action today will be remains to be

CALHOUN'S KOLBITES.

They Ask Alabama's Senators to Vote for Chandler's Resolution.

Anniston, Ala., August 23 .- (Special.)-The populists of Calhoun county assembled in mass meeting at the courthouse in Jacksonville today. They passed the resolutions which had been provided, pronouncing the recent state election a fraud and a shame and declaring that they would no longer submit to such fraudulent and corrupt methods, nor recognize and sustain a gov ernment brought into power through such improper agencies. They declared it their purpose and intention to have and maintain their rights under the constitution and law of the land. "An honest election league" was formed according to instructions, and a resolution was adopted asking Senators Morgan and Pugh to vote for the Chandle resolution in the senate to investigate the recent state election. About two hundred men were present. Similar meetings were held in every county in the state, but to startling results are apprehended.

Pronounced to Be a Failure. Birmingham, Ala., August 23 .- (Special.) The Kolbites had a mass meeting here towith an attendance of three hundred, and passed resolutions, cut and dried for the occasion. They then formed themselves into a so-called honest men's league. The purpose is presumed to be to set up a dua government. The meeting here was run by Bowman and Skaggs. So far as heard, the entire affair was a flat failure all over the state.

FOR FREE COINAGE.

Colonel Atkinson Made His Position Clear in a Speech lat Greenville.

HE EXPLAINS THE STATE PLATFORM

It Is for the Free and Unlimited Coinage of Silver, Without Delay or Recourse to Foreign Nations.

Greenville, Ga., August 23 .- (Special.)-"McGregor Is on his native heath," said Major J. W. Parks today, "when an Atkinson treads the hills of Meriwether, Georgia has called one of Meriwether's sons for sovernor, and to introduce one who is so well known in all parts of the state is a work of supererogation."

The audience which had assembled to greet Colonel W. Y. Atkinson in the delivery of his opening address as the democratic nominee for governor of Georgia must have nubered 1,500.

They were the friends of his youth, the friends of his father, and felt a personal interest in the frail figure so full of force which stood before them. In the audience was quite a sprinkling of third party peo-ple. They were good humored, however, and when they interrupted Colonel Atkin son it was only to be turned about cieverly by his racy retort. Sitting around Colonel Atkinson were Judge Sampson W. Harris, Attorney General Terrell, Warner Hill, who may be speaker of the next house of representatives, and all of the prominen citizens of the surrounding country. The feature of Colonel Atkinson's speech his interpretation of the silutterances of the Georgia platform. He claimed the right to interpret it and to give tone to the principles upon which he appealed to the people. He declared that the third party people dared not attack the platform upon which the democracy of Geor gia had planted itself in this contest and was marching to victory.

"The state democracy," said Colonel Atkinson raising nimself up to his full height, "has declared in favor of the tree and unlimited coinage of silver. In our state platform we come right out and say that we are in favor of the free and unlimited coinage of silver right now, without the delays which the outside world would impose upon us.

He Can Stand Alone. "On that idea of the immediate free and unlimited coinage of silver I made my canvass, believing as I did that this great country had power enough to make its own financial system without waiting for the nod of any foreign monarchy."

As the eloquent speaker progressed he nanded the undivided attention of his

"No man," he resumed, "should be taken as a measure for the standard of dem-The populists say that we did not pass the right kind of a tariff bill, though their own congressmen voted for it. Then they repeat that we have not done what we should on the silver question.

"I concede," said Colonel Atkinson, "that among democrats there are differences in opinion to this extent. All democrats alike opnion to this extent. All democrats anke favor the coinage of gold and silver. Cleveland is a silver man and I am. He wanted an international agreement. I wanted it without submitting to that delay. Here is a party all of whose members favor the coinage of gold and silver. One section claims that we should do it courselves the claims that we should do it ourselves, the other section is opposed to it without the consent of the balance of mankind. We all want an honest dollar and if two sorts of dollars are affoat, differing in value, the rich man would claim the good money and exchanging it for a larger sum of debased y would put that in circulation among dependent upon him. I have a table giving the coinage from 1793 to 1890. Since er was demonetized in 1873 there has een six times as much silver coin in the entire time before. That shows how much more largely silver has entered into the commerce of the world. There was an increase from $35,000,000 to $79,000,000 in 1892. While the product of silver has increased largely the countries which have heretofore coined it free have ceased to do so.

The bulk of our trade is with countries having a gold standard. "Can our government in the face of this go on with the free coinage of silver? This is the question Mr. Cleveland asked and he is of the opinion that by stopping the coinage of silver we will draw in so much of the world's supply of gold as to force either countries into an international agree

pressively: "The democracy of Georgia is a unit for the opposite of this. "They insist that we shall have the imnediate free and unlimited coinage of silver. Some people seem to think that the word parity would call for an increased size of the silver dollar. Let me tell you that you cannot value silver while it under the ban of adverse legislation. If you pass a law that white horses should not be sold they would lose their value. When silver was driven out of the market by demonetization it is no wonder that there arose a difference in bullion value. "Remonetize silver and the new markets uld maintain its parity with gold as it has always done. The fact that the ratio is not mentioned in the state platform is material. What we want is the recognition right now on our own motion of the free and unlimited coinage of silver. If in time the detail of ratio needs attention it can be legislated upon as it was in the time of Jefferson, when it was 15 to 1. "Open up the mints," exclaimed Colonel Atkinson, amid cheers. "Let us have the ible standard. Do not dally about the ratio, a question which is not yet pertinent government can establish a financial System of its own without foreign help. The variation of the values of the two ls does not effect the coined money. From 1841 to 1860 two and a half times as much silver coined as gold. From 1820 to 1840 there was twice as much silver coined as gold. From 1841 to 1860 two and a half times as much gold as silver. In spite of all these variations the coins kept of equal value. If 20,000,000 people in France can float $800,000,000 in silver why cannot the 70,000,000 people in the United States float $600,000,000?

Why One Was Left. "My countrymen," said Colonel Atkinson,
"the way to have free silver coinage is to elect congressmen whom you can trust to vote for it. That is what our democratic congressmen will do. One of them did not do so and they doomed him when he sought re-election" This reference to Tom Cabaniss created

This reference to Tom Cabaniss created quite a sensation.

"The president," said Colonel Atkinson, "has taken hold of the currency question. The democracy came into power under the shadow of an impending panic. We had to deal with questions when the country was not in its normal condition. The president took up one question at a time and that of the tariff, having precedence, has passed into law. The force bill has been repealed. I believe that with the opening of the next session of congress Mr. Cleveland will present a free silver scheme. Congress passed the seigniorage bill. The democratic house and senate stood by it to the end, 'but,' say the third party people, 'Mr. Cleveland vetoed it.' What would you think of a man who quits his party because some man from New York is against one of his principles? It teaches us that we should watch out more closely. Next time we will get a man who will stand by the party."

Colonel Atkinson spoke for three hours. He was in excellent voice and commanded the ready sympathy of his hearers. His powers of oratory were never displayed to better advantage.

"He said tonight: "I want my views on the silver question to go out in time to let the campaign workers know how I stand." Colonel Atkinson will speak in Canton on

P. J. MORAN. EVERYTHING LOVELY IN PIKE.

Tom Cobb's Splendid Speech-He Had Fun with Asmon Murphy. Barnesville, Ga., August 23.—(Special.)— The democrats of Pike county are in excep-lent shape, enthusiastic and earnest in their work, and will beat their third party opponents by a good majority.

The recent joint debate in this county between Messrs. Tom Cobb, of Atlanta, and A. A. Murphy had the effect of enthusing A. A. Murphy had the effect of enthusing the democrats and Mr. Cobb's spiendid speech did great good to democracy. He completely mastered this third party opponent, meeting all of his arguments and firing hot shot into the enemy's camp. The scoring he gave Murphey, who was once a prohibition leader in Fulton county, and who has been a member of about every political party known to modern politics, was very severe and was greatly enjoyed by all the democrats. Mr. Cobb made a big success and has a number of invitations to speak in this vicinity.

Good Speeches and Their Effect-The

Dalton, Ga., August 23.—(Special.)—The outlook for democracy in this section is much brighter than it was several weeks ago. Murray county has been considered doubtful ground, but the latest reports from there are most favorable. Mr. Seth Gregory, who has been nominated for the house, is a strong man and will poll the full strength of the party. Spring Place has been treated to two splendid rallies during the past week. Yesterday Major A. O. Bacon made a masterly speech there and the day before Mr. W. C. Glenn shelled the woods in magnificent shape. Both speeches are very highly spoken of and unquestionably did great good to the party.

White's Democrats Nominate. Clarksville, Ga., August 23.-The democrats of White county held a mass meeting and rally at the courthouse in Cleveland yesterday. A. M. Dean was nominated for the legislature, and the candidacy of Colonel M. G. Boyd, of Lumpkin county, for senator from the thirty-second district, was endorsed. Floquent and impressive speeches were made by Colonel J. W. Robertson, of Habersham, and Mr. Harry Reed, of Atlanta. Music was given by the Clarksville Cornet band. Much enthusiasm prevailed. The lines are closely drawn in White. If there is any change since 1892 it is favora ble to democracy.

Judge Turner Coming Up. Quitman, Ga., August 23.—(Special.)— Hon. H. G. Turner, who has been at home since Mondsy, left this afternoon for Atlanta. On Saturday he is to speak at Hart-well, Hart county, and Monday at Fort Gaines. He is in the hands of the state campaign committee and will speak at other piaces in the state. Mr. Turner's labors at Washington during the past few weeks have tired him out, and he needs rest. He left here today against the wishes of his friends.

the Democratic Reply. Wayeress, Ga., August 23.-(Special. -At Lee's mill pond today Dr. S. W. Johnson, the populist candidate for congress from the eleventh district, spoke on the issues of the day. Dr. Johnson spoke one and a half. He said that he hoped that rotten eggs would not be cast at speakers this year. He had not studied the air of public speaking, he said, and had made his first public speach in Appling county a few weeks ago. He remarked that he had been uranimously selected by the populists as their candidate for congress, and that if he is elected he will not let the populist banner trail in the dust. Before accepting the nom-ination of his party he had considered the subject prayerfully. After the speech a barbecue was spread. Dr. Johnson ate din-ner and refused to remain to hear Judge Mershen reply to his speech.

RACES AND NEW COTTON.

North Carolina's First Bale Goes to the Market-Heide Heard From. Raleigh, N. C., August 23.—(Special.)—The August trotting races here ended today. There were three events on the programme. The first, for the three-minute class, was won by George Bennett's Prince Albert in three straight heats. Lilly Medium, second; Nellie Payne third. The second race for three-year-olds was easily won by J. T. Biggs's Wilful Winnie. The race of the day was the free-for-all: It was wen by J. W. Peay's Clipper, Cock Robin sec-ond, Maggie Watkins third. Clipper's best time was 2:20.

The first bale of North Carolina cotton was received yesterday at Wilmington

Great Damage Was Done. Akron, O., August 23.-While threshers were at work on a farm of George Whitner, on the western edge of the city, a box of dynamite was found oncealed in a sheaf of wheat. Half an hour later a dynamite of wheat. Half an hour later a dynamite cartridge, which had been secreted in another sheaf, was exploded in the separator, wrecking the machine and setting fire to the barn. John W. Hines, Jacob and Charles Lacey, attempted to rescue the horses in the barn. Hines was fatally injured Four horses, one mule and several heed of cattle were burned to death, and Whitzer's entire wheat and oats crop and many farm implements were destroyed.

Buffalo, N. Y., August 23.—Joseph Bissinger was driving along Grace street this afternoon with a load of ammonia, used for making ice in breweries. One of the tanks containing the stuff exploded with a loud report hurling Bissinger twenty feet, throwing him through the boughs of a tree which everhung the street. He came down on the opposite side of the street. His hands and feet were torn off by the explosion and his flight through the tree. He was instantly killed. No reason for the explosion is known.

LUMPKIN OF BARTOW

The Democrats of the Forty-Second District Nominate a Senator.

MAJOR A. O. BACON'S RACE ENDORSED

One County Holds Back, While the Others Declare in His Favor-Preparing tor a Bally.

Rome, Ga., August 23.—(Special.)—The senatorial convention of the forty-second district met here this morning. This district consists of Floyd, Bartow and Chattooga counties, and by the rotation system it is Bartow's time to name a candi-date. Captain Tom Lyons, of Bartow, was made chairman, and Colonel C. W. Underwood, of Rome, was secretary. J. W. Harris, Jr., of Bartow, placed before the convention Will H. Lumpkin as Bartow's choice. The nominee was quickly notified, and Mr. Lumpkin made a strong and straightforward democratic speech.

There was something of a ripple caused

There was something of a ripple caused by Mr. L. A. Dean offering a resolution recommending that the senator vote for A. O. Bacon for United States senator. It was eloquently seconded by W. A. Wright. Mr. Harris, of Bartow, thought twould be an unwise step, and opposed it, stating that he did so not in opposition to Mr. Bacon. Mr. Dean withdrew part of the resolution, and in the new form it simply stated that it was the sense of the simply stated that it was the sense of the convention that Mr. Bacon was the choice of the district for United States senator. Mr. Harris thought this did not relieve the resolution of its objectionable features, and on voting Floyd and Chattooga; eight votes, were for it, and Bartow, four, against. After the Heavyweights.

A petition was circulated today asking Hon. Hoke Smita, Hon. Henry G. Turner, Major A. O. Bacon and General Clement A. Evans to make democratic addresses

A. Evans to make democratic addresses here on Friday, September 7th. The idea is to make the day a great democratic occasion, and have excursion rates on all the railroads, bringing a large crowd of visinors to the city.

Tom Watsen and Dr. Felton are booked to speak here September 1st, and the democrats want to follow it up with a great occasion, which will open up their side of the campaign. The people want to hear these speakers, and there are other prominent Georgians they desire to hear from. The Floyd county democratic executive committee has decided to make an aggressive campaign. Hon. Patrick Walsh, Hon. L. F. Garrard, Hon. W. Y. Atkinson, Hon. Steve Clay, Hon. R. L. Berner and others are wanted and expected to come this way before the day of election.

MURDER AND SUICIDE

MURDER AND SUICIDE. A Savannah Mulatto Shoots a Woman and Then Himself.

Savannah, Ga., August 23 .- (Special.)-A most peculiar case of love and jealousy in colored high life terminated today about 1. o'clock in a tragedy which has been talked of almost as much as if the parties had been white. Robert Howard, a bright mulatto, went to Rhodes was employed as cook, and opening the back gate called to her. As she came up she saw a pistol in his hand, so she turned and ran. Howard fired two shots, neither one of which took effect. Then he followed her to the steps as she ran, firing five more shots, one of which struck her in the back and passed through her lung.

She ran into the house, where she droppe kitchen, where he shot himself in the shoulder. There being but one cartridge in the pistol, he went into the yard loaded it and fired two shots into his breast just above the heart.

Both were removed to the Georgia in-firmary, and the physicians say that neither will live. Howard left his wife about four years ago and since then has been paying attention to other women. This woman repulsed him and refused to marry him un-He denies this story and says she has been man. He said his only regret was that he did not strike the heart, so that he could die at once. His reason for shooting himself was that he did not want to go to jail or be punished here on earth, as he knew he would be if he lived. He said he did not know what his punishment in the next world would be, but he might as well face it at one time as another, so he tried to kill himself. He cannot live until morning, and there is believed to be no chance for the woman.

Another Syrian Assaulted.

A Syrian peddler, named Seab George, was nearly killed about two miles west of the city this afternoon, by a negro, who attacked him from the rear with a knife as he was walking along the Central railroad track. George received five deep cuts in the back of the head and neck. These neddiers are favorite objects of attack with the negro desperadoes. The Syrians carry valuable packs and seldom go armed. George s the second one so attacked recently.

EMORY ENDORSES CANDLER.

The Faculty Approving His Administration Passes Resolutions. Oxford, Ga., August 23.-(Special.)-By a unanimous vote of the faculty Emory col-lege has passed resolutions expressing not only its full confidence in President W. A. Candler, but thoroughly approving his administration as president of the college.

Dr. Candler was never more popular with the faculty than now, nor has he ever been stronger with the board or the friends of the college generally. Since his connection with the institution as president, he has done splendid work in keeping it before the people, and in rais-ing the standard of the college until it now ranks with the very first of the southern colleges. His zeal and energy are manifest-ing themselves in the growth of the college, and the action of the faculty in unanimously endorsing his administration is a thoroughly merited tribute.

BRYAN CUMMING ACQUITTED.

He Returned to Gibson and Stood His Trial.

Gibson, Ga., August 23.—(Special.)—Jim Harris, the negro who fired the store and depot at Agricola last December, was today convicted and sentenced for life in the penitentiary.

Will Jones, the boy convicted of stealing $1,500 from Robert McNair, some months ago, was given a sentence of five years. The grand jury's bill found yesterday against Messrs. Bryan Cumming and Salem Dutcher was for assault and battery. Mr. Cumming returned here today and stood trial and was acquitted. Mr. Dutcher, it is said, will be here and stand his trial to-

Means Much for the Past.

Brunswick, Ga., August 23.—(Special.)—
All Brunswickians are watching the movements of the new Southern railway officials with a great deal of interest. Present indications point to early changing of work by the Southern people on some of their large dock properties in the heart of the business portion of the city. The wharf property at the foot of Monk street is to be converted into cotton sheds.

It is stated that property owners along Bay street will endeavor to secure permission from the city council to make Bay street a railroad thoroughfare and change the present frontage of the buildings to Oglethorpe street, the next one to Bay street.

Trains Must Go Slow There. Hogansville, Ga., August 22.—(Special.)— Captain Joseph L. Bell, one of the oldest and most popular conductors on the Atlanta and West Point railroad, appeared before the city police court this morning in answer to a charge of running a train through the corporate limits of the town faster than eight miles per hour, in violation of a city ordinance. The captain was fined $10 and costs, upon his plea of guilty, but appealed the case to a full board of the council to meet on the first Monday in September. He was bound over under a bond of $25.

A BEAR AT TALLULAH.

He Is a Big One and Has a Den in the Tallulah Falls, Ga., August 23.-(Special.)-

Mr. L. P. Wall, a citizen of Chechero district, of this county, on the road to Tallulah Falls today, was confronted at the ustance of a mile from the falls by a large black bear standing in the road. Mr. Wall says he could have easily shot it if he had brought any firearms. Mr. Wall says the bear would have easily netted 400 pounds. Quite a large party of hunters are organizing for the purpose of trying to run bruin to earth. There are about 100 dogs, hounds, bull dogs, curs and terriers on the hunt. It has been known for years that a bear has either made his den in the rocks at the grand chasm, or has made periodical visits there. It has been often hunted, but always in vain.

AN ATLANTA FAMILY POISONED. Every Member Was Taken Violently Ill After Eating Lunch.

Athens, Ga., August 23.—(Special.)— Charles Kelley, with his wife and two children from Atlanta, reached Athens this evening. They got lunch at an eating house. When near the river, Mrs. Kelley was taken sick and carried to a house was taken sick and carried to a nouse near by, where she and the children are now at the point of death. Mr. Kelley came up town and sought Sanitary Inspector Orr, who secured Officer Rose. Before a physician could be found Mr. Kelley was taken ill and Physicians Conway and Edwards carried him to the house his wife and children are.

It is not believed that Mrs. Kelley can Dairymen Adjourn.

Griffin, Ga., August 23.—(Special.)—The Georgia State Dairymen's Association adjourned today after an interesting session of two days. Very little work was done oday. The most important feature was the address of Mr. H. J. Wing. Resolutions were passed declaring that display should be made at the Dixie in-erstate fair, at Macon, in October. The organization was perfected and on motion of Felix Corput, it was decided that the association should apply to the courts of Spalding county for a charter, so that the association might be incorporated.

A Snake in a Hen's Nest.

Dawson, Ga., August 23.—(Special.)—Mr. George St. John had a narrow escape from a rattlesnake bite a few days ago while eximining a hen's nest at his home near Graves While in the act of gathering tler, five feet in length, beside the nest and very close to one of his hands, Mr. St. John's timely discovery doubtless saved his life. A dog that was with him, however, was not so fortunate in escaping the Rally at Hartwell Tomorrow.

Hartwell, Ga., August 23 .- (Special.)-One of the largest political rallies ever held in northeast Georgia will take place next Saturday at Hartwell. There will be a barbecue under the auspices of the demo-eratic party of Hart county. Extensive preparations have been made and an immense crowd is certain. Hon. H. G. Tur-ner, Major A. O. Bacon, L. F. Garrard and others will address the crowd.

Fine Crops in Monroe. Forsyth, Ga., August 23 .- (Special.)-A ride through Monroe county recently showed the crops to be unusually fine. The farmers are feeling very hopeful, and unless the rains interfere too much, Monroe will come up in the fail with an abundant yield.

Macon, Ga., August 23,-(Special.)-It developed today that Mrs. J. R. Smith, the ome and voluptuous brunette who, it is alleged, ran away from her husband in Savannah and eloned with a drummer arrived in Macon Tuesday night and registered at the Brown house as "Mrs. J. R. Smith, Savannah." Yesterday she was seen on the streets by many, but none knew her identity. She is beautiful of face and form and attracted a great deal of atten-tion and admiration. All wondered who she was. Her conduct at the hotel was discreet. Today the police authorities re-ceived a telegram from G. . Turton to teep a watch on Mrs. Smith until his arrival. Accordingly Lieutenant Carnes re-quested Mrs. Smith to remain in the Brown nouse parlors until Turton's arrival. Turton came in on the Savannan train about 3 c'clock. He proved to be the father of Mrs. Smith. He lives in Pensacola. He was deeply grieved at his daughter's escapade Mrs. Smith emphatically denies that she eloped from Savannah with a drummer She says she simply left her husband because she learned that she did not love him. His name is A. C. Smith and he is a

The drummer with whom Mrs. Smith is alleged to have eloped from Savannah is a Macon young man. Mrs. Smith went to Quitman, then to Thomasville and next to Valdosta and from there she came to Ma con. Mr. Turton and daughter left tonight for Pensacola. The news of Mrs. Smith's presence in Macon spread like wild fire, and everybody wanted to catch a glimps

N. E. Harris Nominated.

The democratic senatorial convention of the twenty-second district met today at Forsyth and unanimously nominated N. E Harris, of Bibb, for senator. Judge G. B. Alright, of Monroe, was chairman of the convention. Mr. Harris was put in nomination by James H. Blount, Jr., of Bibb, and the nomination was seconded by Monroe and Pike counties. After the nomination, Mr. Harris appeared before the convention and made a ringing democratic speech. Harris, of Bibb, for senator. Judge G. B. speech.

The convention endorsed the national and state platforms.

Mrs. Brown's Funeral. The funeral services of Mrs. Adeline M. The funeral services of Mrs. Adeine and Brown will occur tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock from the residence of her son, Mr. Herbert Brown, on Washington avenue. She was a noble, Christian woman, a member of the Baptist church. She was born in Cheshire, Mass., July 11, 1806. She was the daughter of Roswell B. Brown, of Richmond, Va., and granddaughter of Rev. John Leland, who was a prominent Baptist preacher in Virginia for more than thirty years. She was married in 1825 to Luther H. Brown. Her death is deeply mourned.

Negroes and Populists.

The report is that a number of the negroes of Bibb have expressed themselves in favor of the populists, and will vote with them in the different elections. It is said that they have been holding meetings at night recently in the interest of the third party.

Although the general opinion is that young Jeff Long is not guilty of the attempted assault on Miss Yates, it is probable that he will remain in jail for a while longer. He cannot be turned out of jail unless some court says so, for he has been regularly committed to jail on a warrant. A trial of his case, however, is liable to establish his innoctance. The parents of young Long are orderly and deserving people and they have many white friends.

The County Commis The county commissioners held a special meeting today. Among the most important business transacted was awarding the contract to furnish 103 tons of coal for the courthouse, jail and Roff home next winter. The award was made to A. L. Butts.

Two Cases. United States Commissioner Erwin had two cases before him today, to-wit: J. E. Morgan, of Brooks county, and Elbert Watts, of Butts county. The former was charged with working in an illicit distillery and the latter was charged with furnishing meal to an illicit distillery. Morgan was discharged and Watts was committed to tail in default of $100 hond.

The New England Cotton Mills.

The mill strikes in New England are assuming larger proportions every day. At Fall River, the mill managers have concluded to shut down for an indefinite period. The telegram announcing this says it is generally expected that it will go on until the market shows improvement.

In other words, the managers have concluded that the best way to secure a market for the stuff they have on hand is to cease production until the demand for cotton goods increases the

That is one way to "improve the mar ket," of course. But we are disposed to doubt very seriously whether the mills will find any profit in prices that have increased as the result of the lockout. The mill managers are intelligent men. and we think if these intelligent men would seriously examine the causes that have led to the extraordinary fall of the prices of all the products of human labor during the past twenty years, they would have no difficulty whatever in finding a remedy for the depression that has seized upon all industries and all business

Nothing can be more certain than that increased prices, as the result of a lockout, will not add to the prosperity of the mills. As a remedy it is as fransitory in its effects as a dose of morphine. When the mills are idle they are losing money, no matter what price they get for the stock they have on

The industrial depression that has attacked all interests is the result of an inadequate volume of standard money. Since, by the unconditional repeal of the purchasing clause of the Sherman act, the congress of the United States has declared that gold alone shall be the standard moncy of the country, the prices of commodities, property values, adjusting themselves to that standard Having to meet the increasing demands of Europe and this country, gold is constantly growing more valuable. It is said that there has been a large increase in the world's stock during the past twelve months, but this increase is not a drop in the bucket, compared with the increased and increasing demand for the metal as the money stand-

So far as this country is concerned. it has been steadily losing its stock of gold. This loss counts not only as a decrease in our stock of standard money, but as a decrease in the volume of currency. Since the first of January this country has lost $72,500,000 in gold In 1893 we lost $32,500,000: in 1892 $47,500,000; in 1891, $71,500,000. Now here is a loss of nearly two hundred and twenty-five millions of dollars in our stock of standard money and in the volume of our circulation. A part of this loss in the volume of circulation was made up by issues of silver notes under the Sherman act, but the loss in the volume of standard money has not been made up at all.

We advise the owners of the New England mills, as we advised their operatives the other day, to seek the cause of their troubles in the increasing value of gold. Business will resume and grow better than it is now; but the cotton mills of New England will never have high prosperity until the people have an adequate supply of standard money-and when we say an adequate supply of standard money, we mean an amount of hard, honest money sufficient to float currency enough to sustain prices at a just and fair level and to give the business energies of the country room to expand.

The President and the Tariff Measure. The newsmongers around Washington are now busily engaged in discussing the probability of a veto of the tariff bill. A few days ago, they were saying that he would either surely sign it, or permit it to become a law by the lapse of time. But around the capital, the newsmongering mind is unable to bear the strain occasioned by suspense. The purveyors of gossip must have some-thing definite to lean upon, even if they have to invent it. So now, instead of hearing that the president will sign the tariff measure and thus give a definite settlement to a vexed question, we are told that he will veto it. On the other hand it is said that he will sign it, and still again we are told that he will let ome a law without his approval.

There is a good deal of plausibility in ne of the reasons suggested why Mr. Cleveland will crush the senate tariff measure with his veto. First and fore-most he has denounced the bill, as it stands, as the result of "perfidy and dis-honor." Is it likely that he will approve a measure that justifies such a declara-On the other hand, if the president illows the bill to become a law without his signature, it will be because he re-fuses to share responsibility for the measure. His refusal to sign it would be an indirect, but very severe, criticism on the action of the house for acceptcrats of the senate for even making an effort to get the best they could out of bad condition.

Should Mr. Cleveland veto the bill, he places himself in the predicament of declaring that Hill is right and all the other senate democrats wrong. We question whether he is ready to do this. To allow the measure to become a law without approval is worse than a veto would be in the nature of an announcement that the measure, although it reduces the McKinley tariff 30 per centum, is a nefarious one. But if it is a nefarious measure—if it is the out-in justice to every democrat who voted After all, everything would have been lovely in the party and in the administration but for the impolitic Wilson let-come of perfidy and dishonor-it ought to be vetoed. If not, it should be signed ter, which made the senate bill inevitable. But for that letter, which exasperated democratic senators and created bad feeling in various quarters, the compromise measure that the conference committee would have been able to oncoct-or even the present measure could have been signed by the president with no loss of dignity and no surrender of principle, just as it was accepted by the tariff reformers of the house. The democrats of that body are certainly not guilty of perfidy and dishonor in making the best out of a bad bargain. Neither could such a charge be laid at Mr. Cleveland's door were he to sign the bill.

For these reasons we think that in the interests of party harmony and party success, he should sign the measure. Both the party and the people demand a settlement of the question. To that end, we trust that Mr. Cleveland will see his way clear to approving the measure.

It Belongs to the Country.

In a leading editorial, which we re produce elsewhere, The Augusta Chronicle sensibly says that while Atlanta, as a city, deserves the congratulations of the country on the work she has accomplished for the international exposition, it is a matter of congratulation to the whole country, and not to Atlanta alone. Right! It is not an Atlanta, but a national exposition, far-reaching in its nfluences-taking in the whole country with one wide sweep.

It is not meant to benefit a city, but people; every city in the south is as greatly interested in its success as is Atlanta; it sets out to speak for the south; to place its enterprise and industry on a high plane before the world: to bring the great countries south of us into closer trade relations with us; at once, to be a lasting benefit to our common country.

Already it has accomplished a great work as our Augusta contemporary testifles, to-wit: the breaking down of sectional lines, and the establishment of confidence between doubtful sections.

And this is only the beginning of it. Atlanta has worked hard-is still working-for this exposition; but the representatives of other states, who advocated our interests before the nawages and business profits have been tion; the government that lent its aid to the enterprise; the press that has encouraged it, and the people who have nanifested an interest in it everywhere, share in its triumph and are part of its

> It is an exposition of the people of the south and of the country at large. Atlanta, with all her enterprise; with all that she has done, is only an incident to it. The Cotton States and International exposition belongs to the whole country!

The Kingdom of Corn.

There is a golden glow on the fields, once whitened by the fleece of the cot ton bolls-a symphony in yellow, where the corn hangs heavy in the ear, waiting to pile the barns with plenty.

Corn is king in Georgia, and each browned blade thereof waves like a banner of prosperity over the ample fields where the reapers are singing. The rainless skies of the west have olighted the grain and left the harvest light; but here in Georgia the seasons have conspired to enrich the soil and bring the seed to its fullest fruition: and after the harvest song comes the noise of the mill wheels, turned by swift streams for the grinding of the grain; and nature, with her sweetest smiles, blesses and rewards toil.

It has been a year of plenty in the fields, and bright is the promise with which it illumines the future-a year of plenty, ending in hope, which points to still brighter years for Georgia and her people.

Let us hope that the reign of corn will last. His throne is a golden one; long banished, he returns again, and the land is one of plenteousness; and the winds that wander through his bladed lines waft a song of thanksgiv ing to the skies.

The Bagging Question Again,

We publish elsewhere a communica-tion signed "Merchant," in reference to the jute bagging business and the tare on cotton. The Constitution's only desire in the agitation of this question is to warn the planters and the people against the threatened move of the trust which, in anticipation of free bagging, had evidently set its pegs with a view to raising the price of jute bag-ging to the limit of tolerance. There is no doubt whatever that this was the scheme, but its prompt exposure and the public indignation created against it had the effect of nipping in the bud what might have been a very serious thing for our farmers. The Constitution has handled this matter very 'vigorously, becausé we thought it our duty to do so, and we believe now that had it not been for its emphatic protest, and that of other prominent southern newspapers, cotton bagging would now be selling at rably higher rates than is now

As to sugar cloth bagging, or any other sort of bagging, The Constitution further than our desire to see our farm ers get the benefit of the best covering for their cotton for the least money. If jute answers their purpose, and if the jute monopoly does not take advantage of its monopoly to squeeze the payment of exorbitant prices for it, we have no protest to make against jute in favor of anything else, but we insist that the people should be fairly treated, and we shall be heard from when we think that they are not.

So far as The Constitution is concerned, it is immaterial what covering the farmers use for their cotton, but it of immense importance that the farmers should not be made the victims of any bagging combine.

We happen to know that the exposure of the plan of the cordage trust has accomplished at least one good result; it has prevented a rise in the price of jute bagging beyond the normal figures. As our main purpose has been to check the contemplated exaction of the jute monopoly, we are satisfied with the progress of the protest, and we shall be heard from again when the jute trust feels disposed to take up the question of an increase in prices.

. Hotels and the Exposition. Several Georgia newspapers have expressed a doubt of Atlanta's ability, in the matter of hotel accommodations, to entertain the crowds that will throng the city during the exposition season. There need be no misgivings on this score. Already the plans for a number of new hotels are being considered, and others will follow in rapid succession Atlanta will offer the very best entertainment to all who visit the exposition. She is equal to the undertaking—as great as it is—and will acquit herself with honor.

It is well understood that the citizens of the world will be within our gates on that occasion; that our coming exposition will largely surpass the record of all former enterprises of this character which have been held in the south. At lanta well knows what is expected of her, and there will be no disappointment in any respect. She will be well equipped and equal to every emergency.

There will be room for everybody; transportation and hotel facilities will be perfect; and, in fact, nothing will be overlooked which might in any measure contribute to the comfort of visitors or the success of the show which attracts them. The eyes of the world are upon Atlanta, and she is at her best!

Among the candidates for the Tennesse federal judgeship to succeed Judge Key is Colonel George T. Fry. of Chattanooga formerly of Atlanta, who is being pressed for the appointment in the event that ex-Governor Porter's amointment is not confirmed by the senate, which now seems probable.

The announcement that Colonel Fry will be a candidate will be of interest to his many friends in Atlanta, who have not heretofore known that he had consented to allow the use of his name. Colonel Fry ranked among Atlanta's foremost lawyers and was several times honored by the people of Fulton county with a seat in the state legislature, in which he always occupied a prominent place as one of the ablest members of the judiciary committee. If another appointment is to be made the friends of Colonel Fry in Atlanta would, of course, be delighted to see him honored. He would grace the bench.

GEORGIA POLITICAL NOTES.

The Georgia Cracker, in a leading editorial, says:

"The eyes of the 'brother in black' are being opened. Thousands of them are being opened. Thousands of them are beginning to see and realize that they have been made tools of and are only considered when votes are wanted, but are ignored when favors are to be distributed. They are beginning to comprehend that their chances for help are better with the democrats or even the republicans than with a faction that, though full of promises, is certain to disappoint them in the future as it has done in the past. Democracy, under the lead of Clay and his gallant band of co-workers, is getting down to its work, and the ides of October will show a triumph that will crush out the last hopes of populism in Georgia."

It was at one time suggested that there should be held a grand democratic rally and barbecue in Gainesville, on the 7th of September, but it has since been decided by the campaign committee that it would be better to hold separate rallies in the various precincts of the county. The following is the list of appointments, at all of which good speakers will be present: At Flowery Branch, Friday August Sist-Flowery Branch, Wilson, Robert's, Friendship and Clinchem.

At Gainesville, Tuesday, September 4th—Gainesville and the entire county.

At Bark Camp, Saturday, September 15th—Bark Camp, County September 15th—Bark Camp, County September 15th—Big Hickory, Fork, Whelchel and Quillian.

"The doctor is not only an able man and a true democrat, but one of the most affable and popular men in his county. It goes without saying that he will be over-whelmingly elected and that he will take a prominent position in the upper house of the ganeral assembly."

A big democratic rally will be held in Sarnesville next Saturday, and a great concourse of people from Pike, Upson, Monzoe, Spalding, Meriwether, Crawford, Monzoe, Spalding, Meriwether, Crawford, Butts and Bibb countles is expected to be present. The Barnesville Gazette says of

"Hon. W. Y. Atkinson, the dashing democratic nomines for governor of Georgia; Senator John B. Gordon, the gallant southern hero, citizen and statesman, and General Clement A. Evans, the peerless Christian gentleman and statesman, will be present and address the people on all the issues of the present campaign. Probably no other such an occasion will be witnessed this interesting campaign." "Hon. W. Y. From The Augusta Chronicle.

We note that many papers are congrat ulating Atlanta on the passage of the $200. 000 appropriation by congress for the Cotton States and International exposition. We cordially endorse the congratulations to Atlanta, but we urge the idea that this is a matter of congratulation for Georgia and the whole south, yes, and whole country, and not for Atlanta alone. Atlanta and Augusta have already attracted the attention of the country by the splendid expositions they have made of the material resources of the south, with out a dollar's assistance from outside sources; and with the practical aid which comes from the government's appropria tion, and from the not less important fact of government recognition and co-operation, there is no reasonable limitation to be se to the powers for good of such an exposition as is bound to be given in Atlanta next year. With the stamp of the approve of the government or the United States on their enterprise, represents tives of the Atlanta exposition can go into the countries of South America and ask with confidence a favorable reception for official exhibits by those governments, There in an earnest desire for closer relations between the South and Central Amer ican countries and the United States, and this exposition in the leading state of th south furnishes an opportunity which there is every reason to believe will be gladly ac cepted by the countries south of us. Then there is another light in which this appropriation promises good results. It goes a long way towards tearing down sections lines. It is a good thing for southern peo ple to feel that the government has an in terest in fostering southern development as well as in encouraging the growth of northpeople at the north to learn that this country extends south of Mason and Dixon' line. A federal appropriation to a nationa enterprise conceived and to be carried out in a southern state is obliged to have a wholesome influence upon the people of this country, and there is every reason to believe that the exposition in Atlanta next fall will have the largest attendance from the north ever given a southern display.

And, then, again, the management of national enterprise is obliged to have broadening and educational effect upon the men engaged in it, and upon the community in which it is projected and carried out. It is sure to prove of incalculable benefit to Atlanta and the state. The exhibit by the government will furnish to many people in this section the first tangible evidence they have ever witnessed of wealth, immensity, power, beauty and diversity of the resources of this country. A large majority of our people have never gazed on the splendid building which adorns the national capital; they never saw the centennial exposition at Philadelphia, nor the world's fair at Chicago. The government building and exhibit at the exposition at Atlanta next year will be, therefore their first peep at the resources and wonders of this country, even in miniature, and the government should, on that account, make the exhibit at Atlanta as comprehensive and educational as possible on to th tion at Atlanta as one of the meritorious acts of the present congress, and we feel assured that when the gates of the exposition have finally closed upon the completed work that all who were instrumental in securing it will feel even better satisfied then than they do now with the part they bore in it. There is not a man or woman in Georgia who should not cheerfully lend all poscible aid and encouragement to this great enterprise-an undertaking the benefic fects of which will extend into the next century, and be felt by those who are but children today.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

Cotton Bagging. Editor Constitution: Recent articles on pearing in The Constitution in reference to the use of sugar bags, and the amoun of this material or of the regular jute covering for cotton, seems injurious advice like to the farmer and the merchant

The recent circular issued by a number of the New England mills is entitled to consideration. They use half a million or more bales of cotton and are justified in the wish to protect their purchases from damage. As they correctly state, the sugar bag material is more closely woven than the jute, takes water quicker, absorbs and retains it longer and damages the cotton in immediate contact with the covering. Nor do we believe they are actuated by any motive of interest in what you term the jute combine, but by a desire only to avoid damage to their shipments while in transit.

The question of tare, as you present it, The question of tare, as you present it, is, we think, misleading. The 6 per cent, which you would induce the farmer to think entitles him to pile on bagging and ties to that extent, does not have any application here. The European buyer calculates in his price the customary tare for bagging and ties, allows for natural loss in weight between point of shipment and destination, then deducts this from his calculation and the net is offered for cotulation and the net is offered for cotton. Hence, the more bagging the farmer puts on the bale, the more it will cost him, for if the custom of excessive bagging bewill inevitably fall upon the producer. Business would be facilitated and any friction between the farmer and the merchan would be smoothed away if the former would return to the old method of using six yards of jute of two pounds to the yard and six ties.

It is respectfully suggested, therefore that the impression which your recent articles on this line have doubtless made upon the mind of the farmer be removed by showing him wherein his best interes MERCHANT.

THE GEORGIA RATTLESNAKES.

Mr. George Arrington, of McDuffie county, killed a few days ago the biggest rattler yet reported. The snake was seven feet long and fifteen inches in circumference; fangs, one and a half inches long, and had eighteen rattles. A peck of bran was used in stuffing the skin.

In Baker county two little girls climbed to the forks of an oak tree to attach a swing. Before they descended they were horrified to discover three large rattle-snakes coiled at the base of the tree. Their screams alarmed the neighbors, who killed the snakes and rescued the little ones from their perilous perch.

TALKING POLITICS.

The race for the secretaryship of the ate is just now attracting a great deal of attention and is a topic for discussion wherever politics is talked.

There are seven gentlemen in it so far: all of them well known and each having many friends throughout the state. Hon. William Clifton, of McIntosh; Hon. C. J. llborn, judge of the Northeastern circuit; Hon. Charles Hansell, of Thomas; Hon. H. H. Cabaniss, of Fulton; Hon. M. B. Pinson, of Coweta; Hon. W. M. Clements, of Telfair, and Hon, E. F. Edwards, of Newton, are the candidates so far announced and all of them are actively at work. Colonel Clifton and Mr. Hansell spent the most of yesterday in the city in consultation with their friends here. Both of them are very well known in Atlanta-the former through his long service in the legislature as the "war horse from Chatham," and the latter as general clerk under Chief Clerk Mark Hardin of the house.

During the day Colonel Clifton was in consultation with Mr. Charles Northen, who will make the race with him, and with other friends who are active in his support. Certainly no man in Georgia has more friends that "Bill" Clifton, and his friends are of the most enthusiastic kind. At the Kimball last night, in response to a question as to the outlook as it appeared to him, Colonel Clifton said: "I have every reason to feel very hopeful indeed. I have had the strongest possible assurance of support from friends in all parts of the state, many of them from gentlemen who are going to be members of the new senate. Of course it is too earl to claim anything, but I am most thoroughly satisfied with the outlook." Mr. Hansell was in consultation with Mr. Mark Hardin, 'n the clerk's office yesterday afternoon, and while he did not care to talk to any extent about the outlook, he said that he felt sure of the hearty support of a number of the senators. "It is too early to tell what is going to be the result, for the members themselves have not yet been elected but I have a good many friends in that body and have already had a good many assurances of support." The friends of Mr. Cabaniss are active in his behalf. So are those of the other gentlemen whose candidacy is announced, although but little has been heard of their candidacy here. Judge Wellborn is one of the best-known members of Georgia's judiciary. He some time ago announced that he would not be a candidate for re-election to the judgeship. He was at one time sectetary of the senate. Mr. Pinson and Judge Edwards were both members of the last senate. Mr. Clements is a prominent young man of McRae, and has many friends, especially in the southern part of the state.

The announcement is made that Hon. J. H. Pittman, of Troup county, will be a candidate for the speakership of the house. Mr. Pittman was a member of the house a few years ago and is an able and popular young man who has a great many friends in Georgia. It was generally supposed that he would be a candidate for spearer pro tem. position. This adds new complications to the speakership race, but leaves to Hon. Clar Wilson, of Clay, a clear field-so far as formal announcements go-for the position pro tempore. Saturday is to be a lively day in politics throughout the state. Especially large ral-lies will be held at Barnesville, Hartwell, and Canton. At Canton Hon. W. Y. Atkinson and Hon. R. L. Berner will be the principal speakers at a big rally and barbecue-one of those for which Cherokee county is famous.

At Barnesville, General Evans, General
Gordon and ex-Congressman J. H. Blount will be the speakers, and the indications are that there will be a great outpouring of the democracy of that section.

The democrats of Hart and surrounding countles are making big preparations for their day, and the indications are that it will be one of the most notable rallies of the campaign. It will be unique in that among the k eakers will be three of the avowed candidates for the United States senatorship. Major Bacon, Colonel Garrard and Judge Turner have all accepted invitations to be at Hartwell that day, and the presence of these three gentlemen on the same stand is sure to prove a great drawing card. The affair is to be an allday's speaking, with barbecue and other necessary accessories. Among the other speakers who have been invited and who Atlanta is to have some speaking in the near future. Arrangements are being made for the appearance of Speaker Crisp and Secretary Smith, who will wake the echoes in and around DeGive's opera house some day early in September.

Major Bacon was in the city for a few hours yesterday. He came up at noon from Conyers and spent the rest of the day here. On Wednesday he spoke at spring Place, in Murray county, and he says that the democrats of that section of the state are thoroughly aroused, and that Murray and the adjoining counties, some of which have been considered doubtful, are safely democratic.

Among the visitors in the city vesterday was Hon. W. E. Candler, of Union county who is popularly known by the appellation peculiar to every branch of the Candler family—that is "Buck." Every Candler has a "Buck" among his sons. This particu-lar "Buck" is the best known of all of iar "Buck" is the best known of all of them, and is right now engaged in making the race for the solicitorship of the Northeastern circuit. "It is too early to tell how the race is going to terminate, but I think my chances are just as good as anybody else's," said he. "At any rate, I'm in it, and my friends are giving me many assurances of support."

for what is to be the costliest handsomest and most imposing of all of Atlanta's public school buildings was accepted at a meeting of the board of education yesterday afternoon. The plan is for the elegant new building to be used as the home of the Boys' High school, and it was selected after two months of labor and consideration as the hest of eight plans that were submitted and urged upon the board.

The successful architects are Messrs. Golucke & Stewart, and the plan which they presented is for a convenient and an artistic building. The selection of a plan marks a great step forward in the history of the coming building. Bids will be advertised for and on September 10th they will be opened and the contract awarded. When this is done work will begin as soon as practicable. The lot for the building has already been purchased and paid for, and nothing in the way of preliminaries remains to be looked after except the matter

The site of the new building is at the all school interests in the state of Georgia during the exposition to be held in Atlanta in the year 1895, and a committee of one from each congressional district in the state, having been appointed by the president of the association, to provide for and superintend such seducational exhibit, and "Whereas. The National Teachers' Association, held one week later at Asbury Park, N. J., approved and advised that an exhibit of the educational interests of the various states and territories be made at the same time and place.

"Therefore be it resolved, That this board of education heartily approves and endorses the action taken by these respective educational conventions and respectfully urge those in charge of the Cotton States and International exposition to encourage by all means in their power the proposed educational exhibit in Atlanta during the coming year.

"Resolved further, That the superintendent and the teachers in the public schools in Atlanta as shall be creditable to this city, provided that the resular course of study be not interfered with in this preparation.

"Respectfully submitted,"

"W.F. SLATON, Superintendent."

"W F. SLATON, Superintendent."

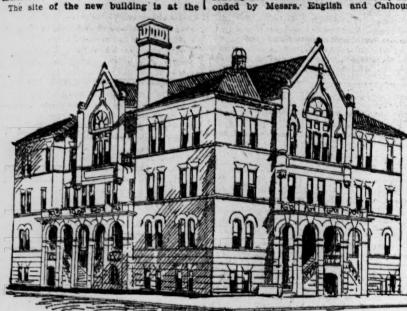

"WF. SLATON, Superintendent."

This report was unanimously adopted and the resolution referring to the exposition went on the minutes.

Chairman Thomson, of the finance committee, reported approved bills amounting to $1,933.45.

Chairman Hendrix, of the building committee, made a short talk to the board in reference to the work of general repairs that had been going on throughout the city. He said that the various grammar schools of the city and the Girls' High school building had been overhauled and made thoroughly inhabitable. This was true of all the schools and they were ready for the occupancy of the schools one week from next Monday.

President Beatie left the chair and introduced a resolution thanking Mr. Hendrix for his zealous work in behalf of the schools and the resolution was heartily seconded by Messrs. English and Calhoun, corner of Gilmer and Courtland streets, and is one of the handsomest in the city. it is at a point of equal altitude with the state capitol and the position is a commanding one. With a magnificent building such as is planned erected upon it there will be no more attractive spot in the city.

The building has been in contemplation for several years and the culmination of hopes long cherished is about to be reached. The boys of the city have been in crowded quarters for a long while, but when the new building is completed they will have a sufficiency of room. The new building will face 152 feet on Gilmer street and ninety feet on Courtland street.

It will be of brick, handsomely orna mented in its exterior and interior finish, and will contain fourteen schoolrcoms, office of the superintendent, room for the meeting of the board, library, chemical apparatus room, science room, gymnasium, and storeroom. The new building will meet a long felt necessity in that it will have one of the largest halls in the city. It will comfortably sear 1,200 people and several hu may crowd into the room. This hall will be amply large to accommodate the crowds that attend the graduating exercises of the school, and will obviate the necessity of holding these interesting exercises in the opera house. The building will be well heated and supplied with an elevator.

The plan which was selected is regarded as being as nearly perfect as could possibly have been secured. The building commit tee, of which Mr. J. C. Hendrix is chairman, has spent two months of hard work weighing the merits of the several plans presented, and has devoted many hours of labor to the task. They have field frequent meetings and realizing the importance of the work in hand they went slowly. The plans were before them a month prior to the last meeting of the board and it was expected that a final report would be made at that time. The committee asked for further time, however, and has been laboring over the eight plans.

Plans were submitted by all the leading Plans were submitted by all the leading architects of the city and as Chairman Hendrix said last night, better work was never done. Every one of the architects appeared in person before the board and urged the acceptance of his plan. Some difficulty was experienced in selecting a plan, because of the difference in cost of the buildings as planned. They ranged in price from $25,000 to $35,000.

"But the greatest difficulty we had," said Mr. Hendrix "was in making a choice be-

Work of the Board.

Chairman Beatie presided over the meeting yesterday afternoon and there were present Messrs. Mayson, Hirsch, Hendrix, Huisey, Thomson, Kontz, Bray, Connally, Cathoun and English.

Superintendent Siaton presented his report showing the work of the department during the month. His report tead:

"From the present indications and the number of applicants for school tickets, your schools will open full again next year. Up to noon today there have been 1.081 new tickets and transfers given. If the pressure continues until school opens, as it has during the past few days, there will not be many vacant seats in the public schools on the third day of September. A large number of children who have been out of school during the past year, are receiving tickets of readmission. Some of these tickets are transfers, owing to the change of residence from one part of the change of residence from one part of the change of residence from one part of the change of residence from new applicants who have never been in the public schools before. I am enforcing very strictly your rule with regard to vaccination, allowing no pupil a ticket of admission who does not present a ticket of successful vaccination from a practicing physician of Atlanta. From all signs we shall open the schools under auspictous omens, with schoolhouses generally in good repair, and with an able corps of teachers to take charge.

"At your last meeting I was instructed to report in writing at this meeting the action taken by the Georgia Teachers' Association, and also, the action taken by the National Teachers' Association with resard to the educational exhibit proposed to be made at the Cotton States and International apposition, and also, the action taken by the National Teachers' Association with resard to the educational exhibit proposed to be made at the Cotton States and International apposition, and to report resolutions in regard thereto for consideration by this board. Mr. Hendrix.

Chairman Kontz, of the teachers' committee, reported that he had a petition from Miss Belle Winter, one of the teachers in the public schools, in which she asked for an extension of a sick leave. She has been suffering with favor and is at present been suffering with fever and is at present unable to return to her post. The leave was granted, and Miss Lupe was elected to fill the place temporarily.

The committee appointed some tim ago to select the physiology to be used in the Girls' High school reported that it had not fin-ished its labors and asked for more time. The time was granted and the committee was empowered to act.

Ever since the Gaston episode the African craze seems to have been on the increase in the state. Almost every day Governor Northen receives letters of inquiry concerning so-called emigration agents, or letters from negroes themselves, asking how they can get to Africa. About one of these agents, especially, there has been a number of complaints—that is Garrett.

His operations were first reported from the governor's home county, Hancock, The reports state that Garrett makes the bold claim that he has the authority from Governor Northen to send such negroes as may desire to go to Africa, and that the tickets are to be secured by him at Washington. As a preliminary, however, he exacts $1 from each person who desires to go. He declares that to be the only cost there is to the trip and naturally having created a good deal of excitement, he has greatly swelled his treasury.

The governor has received letters from respectable negroes in Hancock and the adjoining counties, asking about the man, and there have been several complaints from prominent white citizens of these localities. They claim that he has a regular band and goes about with a bodyguard, armed with pistols. He has a camp near Devereaux, in Hancock county, and within the last few days his followers have received a lot of rifles and other weapons. Last night Garrett was to have spoken in Washington county, at or near Tennille. Governor Northen has wired the authorities of Hancock and Washington counties, calling their attention to the operations of the man and to the false pretenses under which he is duping the poor negroes, and it is probable that his little game will be cut short very promptly.

Rocsipt of the Telegrams Not Denied by the Attorneys Here—May Be Other Developments.

Developments in the Huntley divorce suit have not been very rapid since the filing of the suit by Dr. Huntley, and it is not likely that there will be anything further from either side for some time

But Mrs. Marie Robinson Wright, so it ls understood, has been heard from. It will be remembered that Mrs. Wright was mentioned very prominently in Dr. Huntley's petition for divorce and she was placed in the attitude of having alienated the affections of Mrs. Huntley from the doctor. The petition alleged that Mrs. Wright had a great influence over Mrs. Huntley and that it was to this influence that a great deal may be attributed. It was also alleged that Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Huntley were incompanion.

Mrs. Huntley were inseparable companions whenever Mrs. Wright came to Atlanta and that upon one occasion at least Mrs. Huntley entertsined Mrs. Wright.

In the latter portion of one paragraph it is claimed that Mrs. Huntley said she was going to Mexico or Texas to join Mrs. Wright, but that it was afterwards found out that she went to Oklahoma, where a divorce suit was filed by her and where possession of the child, Lillian, was prayed

Many of the friends of Mrs. Wright Many of the friends of Mrs. Wright have thought that she was still in Oklohoma, but it is now pretty certain that she is in either Mexico or Texas, as telegrams are said to have been received here by certain parties from her. These telegrams have a bearing upon the divorce suit, and if the information is correct Mrs. Wright does not hesitate to say that the exercised an influence over Mrs. Hunt-Mrs. Wright does not hesitate to say that she exercised an influence over Mrs. Huntley, if at all through Mrs. Huntley's own seeking. Just what part Mrs. Wright's testimony in the case will play is as yet exceedingly uncertain, and it is doubtful if she will be sought to be introduced by either side. Some years ago Dr. and Mrs. Huntley boarded with Mrs. Wright and it was then that the two ladies tirst became initimate.

All the way through the case has been one of great interest, and if the statements in regard to certain telegrams from Mexico are thoroughly reliable, there is promise of further revelations and important testimony which may be brought more fully before the public in a few days.

The attorneys for Dr. Huntley, Messrs.

Austin and Park, will have nothing to sey about the suit except that nothing has been heard from Oklahoma. When asked about the telegrams from Mexico or Texas, Mr. Austin refused to have anything to

MRS. MOLLIE J. GREEN DEAD. She Dies at Her Home on Greensferry

Avenue.

Mrs. Mollie J. Green, wife of Mr. D. A. Green, died yesterday afternoon at the family residence. No. 124 Greenesferry avenue, after a short illness of typhoid fever.

Mrs. Green was fifty-two years of age, and was one of the most lovable characand was one of the most lovable characters in the church to which she was attached, and in the social circle in which she moved. Two years ago, while visiting relatives in Emanuel county, she was thrown from a buggy and senously injured. Since then, while apparently recovered from the injuries she received, she has suffered treatly at times. Not many months are greatly at times. Not many months ago an abcess formed on her side and a week ago it was found necessary to subject her to a surgical operation. She was then visiting her son, Mr. Phil Green, who is connected with The Constitution, at his summer home in Clarkston. The operation was successfully performed by her son, Dr. Sam. Green, who is surgeon to the Chatta-hoochee branch of the state penitentiary, and for a few days Mrs. Green appeared to improve. Her improvement was so marked that she was brought to her home in the until day before yesterday, when a change until day before yesterday, when a change came, indicating that she could not recover. She passed quietly away yesterday afternoon. She leaves four sons, all of whom she lived long enough to see doing good, honorable work in the life they had selected. They are Dr. Sam Green, Mr. Phil Green and Mr. Charley Green, both of whom are connected with The Constitution, and Mr. Dan Green, the young attorney. They are all good, promising young men, young men. all good, promising young men, young men of whom any mother might be proud. The funeral will take place this afternoon from the home at 2 o'clock, the Rev. Mr. Davis performing the funeral services. The re-mains will be laid to rest in Westview and the four sons will be the pallbearers. MRS. HARVEY DEAD. A Well-Known Teacher in the Public Schools Passes Away. Yesterday just at noon Mrs. Sarah Fran ces Harvey, for years a teacher in the At-lanta public schools, died at her residence 325 West Simpson street. Mrs. Harvey was born in Buckingham county, Virginia, six-ty-three years ago, but was brought to Georgia by her parents when a child. She graduated from the LaGrange Baptist col-lege and in 1859 was married to Rev. W. L Harvey, a Presbyterian minister, who later went to Brazil. There they lost three chil-dren and finally returned to the United States and settled in Illinois. There Mr. Harvey preached for three years to a col-ony of Portuguese, in their native tongue. In 1871 he came with his family to At-

In 1871 he came with his family to Atlanta and soon after he became a confirmed invalid and after several years of suffering died. It was then that Mrs. Harvey began teaching. Her only son next died of consumption and two years ago her oldest daughter died. On the 15th of last April her only child, a daughter, died.

Two weeks ago Mrs. Harvey was taken ill and at once began making final arrangements for the disposition of her effects. When this had been done she waited like a patient Christian for the end. Through all of her many trials Mrs. Harvey never failed to bow in humble submission to the Master. The funeral services will be held at the residence today at 3 o'clock, by Dr. Holderby. Mrs. Harvey was a sister of Mr. W. C. Dodson, Mrs. Julia Hall and Mrs. Bake Harwell, of this city.

MR. ROBINSON DEAD.

A Prominent Young Atlanta Man Dies

A Prominent Young Atlanta Man Dies in West End.

Mr. James P. Robinson, well known throughout the south among the leading contractors and builders, died yesterday afternoon at his home. No. 6 Park street, West End, after a short illness.

Mr. Robinson came to Atlanta from Philadelphia about three years ago and was in charge of the southern branch of the Graves Elevator Company. He was one of the most energetic and industrious young men of the city and fitted up many of the largest and best buildings in the south. In Atlanta he equipped the Grand opera house, the Kiser building, the Hotel Marion, Silvey and other large buildings, while throughout the south he had some of the best and largest contracts. He was a young man, only twenty-eight years of age. He was a member of the W. D. Luckie lodge of Masons and the funeral will be conducted by that lodge. He was also a member of the Park Street Methodist church. Mr. Robinson, though a resident of Atlanta for only three years, had friends all over the city. The remains will be interred in Westview.

THE CONTEST OF THE FACTIONS

It Is Said That Colonel Peek and Mr. Irwin Had Arranged to Leave the Populist Party if They Had Been Deleated.

A little "If" was one of the most potent yords at the recent meeting of the state alliance at Dublin.

Upon it is said to have hinged the future political policy of the present editor of the official organ of the alliance, and his fatherin-law, Colonel W. L. Feek. Had the "If" not been removed it is said that Colonel Peek and Mr. Irwin would now be in the democratic party.

The story about the factional differences between Colonel C. H. Ellington and Hon. Tom Watson on one side and W. L. Peek and Mr. M. D. Irwin on the other has been told, but the full extent of the difference between them has never been prized because them has never been prized because. between them has never been placed be-fore the public in the strong light which facts justify.

The breach between them had been widen-The breach between them had been widened at the populist convention in which Colonel Peek and his crowd were completely ignored, and it was then settled that a conclusive battle would be fought at the meeting of the alliance. Colonel Peek's friends thought it nothing but right that he should be nominated for governor, and they were very, very sole that that this was not done. They waited until the meeting at Dublin for their revenge.

It was a warm meeting, that gathering at Dublin, as is becoming more and more ev-

Dublin, as is becoming more and more evident each day. Colonel Peek's crowd had been groomed and trained, and they went to Dublin to do vallant battle. Eikewise another faction was on hand. Tom Watson was not there, but he was there in spirit in the Filipseton faction. was not there, but he was there in spirit in the Ellington faction, which had us nose to the breeze for the scent of oattle. It was an evenly matched contest. It was impossible to tell two nours before the election of officers which faction was in the ascendency, and the story goes that some of the most desperate campaigning on record was resorted to. The partisans on both sides threw themselves into the fray like good soldiers, and one of the strongest fights in the history of the alliance was Just at this juncture- at this point of uncertainty and doubt-Colonel Peek and Mr. Irwin are said to have indicated their de-termination to return to demogratic rarks "If" their slate failed to go through. This is the story that comes up from Dublin, but it has the indefiniteness that all proceedings held behind closed doors. "It is a fact, however," said an all-suce-man yesterday, "that if things had not turned out as they did ...w!n and Feek would now be in the democratic party. They triumphed, though, and are well satisfied. Colonel Peek has the alliance, even if Tom Watson has the third party."

This story has been repeated around nearly ever since the meeting at Dublin, and it is responsible for the rumor that the con-trollers of the policy of the alllance organ were considering a proposition to change its policy so as to make it democratic.

AN ALLIANCE BARBECUE.

Battle Hill Alliancemen Enjoyed an Elegant Barbecue.

The Battle Hill alliance is in a most prosperous condition and according to cus-tom held its annual barbecue yesterday. The gathering was held on the top of the old battle hill and alliancemen who belong to the organization attended in large num-bers. This year the meeting was one of more than usual interest. The exercises were opened by a special selection by an orchestra and then prayer was offered by Rev. C. V. Weathers. Rev. A. S. Smith. president of the Battle Hill alliance, then delivered an address of welcome to the alliancement and their systems. iancemen and their guests. Judge Robert L. Rodgers then delivered an address in which he gave a history of the grange and the alliance. At the conclusion of this feature of the meetin the barbecued meats were announced ready and dinner was had. After dinner Dr. John W. Nelms addressed the meeting and Captain J. C. Hendrix followed him with an interesting speech. This closed the programme for the meeting.

MOHLER BROUGHT BACK. He Denies That He Stole the Jewelry

W. E. Mohler, a light-haired, heavy-mus-tached jeweler, who talks about his troubles with a decided German accent, was brought to Atlanta last night from Columbus under the custody of Detective Green.

Mohler, who is said to operate under the name of William Evans, has been wanted here for several weeks on a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Rebecca Keil, who lives on Spring street, charging him with larceny after trust. About a month ago the man after trust. About a month ago the man passed through Atlanta and made his way to DeKaib county where he did an extensive business. He rented a small house about ten miles from Decatur and established a temporary workshop, soliciting jobs in the jewelry line from different parts of the county.

At the time, Mrs. Kell was visiting her mother, who lives in DeKalb county. Mohler had established a good reputation in that locality as a repairer, and made a visit to the place where Mrs. Keil was stopping. asking if work was needed in his line. The lady wore a fine gold watch which was badly out of order, and this, with several other articles of value, were turned over other articles of value, were turned over to him.

He promised to return them in several days, but weeks passed, and the lady became uneasy. Inquiry was made for Mohler, and it was found that he had suddenly disappeared. Upon her return to Atlanta Mrs. Kell took out a warrant for his arrest, and letters of description were sent to different places where it was thought that he would stop. It became known to the detectives that he had a wife near Columbus, and Chief Williams was notified. He was located some distance from the city, and Wednesday morning a balliff was sent out with the warrant. Mohler, so the balliff stated, resisted arrest, and on the way to Columbus made seeral attemtps to escape. Chief Connolly was notified, and Detective Green left early yesterday morning, returning on the next train.

It Will Be Tried in Decatur Next

Judge Richard Clark, who is presiding over the DeKalb county superior court this week, will yield next week to Judge Jim Griggs, of the Pataula circuit.

The most important criminal case that is to be tried next week is that of the state against Henry Carter, a negro, who is charged with murder.

Some eight months or more ago at Stone Mountain, Carter killed Frank Castleberry.

Mountain, Carter killed Frank Castleberry, another negro, who Carter claimed had insulted his wife. Carter was tried and found guilty of murder with a recommenda-tion to imprisonment for life.

Judge Clark afterwards granted Carter a new trial and the case will be tried for the second time next week at Decatur. Judge H. C. Jones is the leading counsel for Carter.

This was not considered unfavorable, however, for the reason that the Vanderbilt stocks forged to the front, and for the first time in months were the real leaders of the market. The activity developed in these issues imparted a firmer tone to the dealings and led to heavy purchases for both accounts. Bur-lington and Quincy really started today's rise, the stock having opened % per cent higher at 76%. This frightened the shorts, and their purchases resulted in a further rise to 78. This unexpected movement in the Grangers forced a short interest in the Vanderbitt group into covering, and in a jiffy, Lake Shore was bounding up 4½ to 139, New York Central 1% to 182, Big Four 2 to 414. Canadian Southern 1% to 52%, and Michigan Central 1½ to 59½. There was also a better demand for the Nickel Plate issues, and the common moved up 11/2 to 161/2, second, preferred, 11/2 to 30 and the first preferred 6 to 68. In the last named only 200 shares changed hands. There were no new reasons assigned for the buoyancy in the railway list and operators are still basing their trades on the dea that the Gorman tariff bill will become a law, in which event they look for a much better condition of affairs in financial and commercial a cial circles. The fact that a large short interest exists which is attested by the premiums demanded for the active issues is of material assistance to the manipula-tors. In the Industrials, Sugar, Distillers, General Electric, Lead and Leather were all in request, but Chicago Gas showed signs of extensive liquidations. The market closed strong, with an advancing tendency. In the inactive stocks Manhattan rose 1% to 121, Consolidated Gas 2½ to 127 and Delaware and Hudson 2½ to 130³2. Columbus, Ga.; Montgomery, Ala., and Brenham, Tex., also report heavy rains. At Little Rock the weather is cloudy and indications of rain. This and similar information received by others caused an improvement immediately after the opening, as prices then were only slightly better than yesterday's close, owing to the continual bearish feeling which prevails here, and in fact at New Orleans and Liverpool as well. the nature of a surprise to the trade, as it was expected that the movement in cotton in Texas would cause a decline in Liverpool. On the contrary, that market closed today steady at 1½-64d better than yesterday with sales of 10,000 bales. Manchester advices state that there is a better demand for goods for South America and the east.
Telegraphic reports from the south reported a severe reainstorm in progress over the country east of the Mississippi, and on this information, which induced the covering of some short contracts by local operators, the market improved some 6 points, losing a portion of the improvement by noon. In the last fifteen minutes of business the execution of a large selling order based upon advices from New Orlears that the receipts at Houston tomorrow would be 2,000 bales, caused a further recession in values, but the tone at the close was steady, but with no disposition among the trade to anticipate a further improvement.

Riordan & Co.'s Cotton Letter. Riordan & Co.'s Cotton Letter,

NEW YORK, August 23.—(Special.)—The market opened today at about yesterday's closing prices, but reports of heavy rains in Alsbama and Mississippi, which many thought excessive, caused quite a scamper of the shorts to cover and a rally of 5 or 6 points tock place. As the traders are rather cauticus about selling the improvement was fairly well maintaired during most of the day. But in the last half hour, the demand slacked and prices eased off. January opened at 6.57, advanced to 6.33 and reacted to 6.30. The close was steady with 6.90 bid for January. The liberal receipts of new cotton at many points in the southwest are very discouraging to the bulls, and if the movement of fresh supplies it that quarter keeps upon its present scale as compared with the movement of last season, we fear that the pressure upon the markets will compel a further decline.

Dry Goods.

From The Wall Street Journal. Today's market is generally active and remarkable for the largest attendance of buyers this season. Ciothing, woolens and bleached cottons, as well as dress goods and the lighter fabrics, are subjects of much inquiry, but the sales are disproportionate. Advices from all sections report an improvement in the volume of trade, and mail or-ders to the various departments are numerous and call for quantities somewhat above the recent average. The prospects for a bitter fight between domestics and importer clothing woolens and worsted are good. Importers, knowing this to be the case, are importuning manufacturers to close contracts and are soliciting orders to be delivered immediately after January 1, 1895. The trade quotes as follows: Clay worsteds, 11 ounces, 56 inches wide, 67½c; 12 ounces, 771/2c; 13 ounces, 85c, and 16 ounces, $1.021/2. Blue and black serges, 12, 13 and 14 ounces, from 60c up to 90c. Imported pin checks in 12, 13 and 14 ounce goods, $1.25, $1.35 and $1.50, respectively. Domestic pin checks in 14-ounce goods are selling at $1 per ward. Prices firmer with no change in collections or paper.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

CHICAGO, August 23 .- The same dif-CHICAGO, August 23.—The same difficulty with cables that gave rise to complaint yesterday occurred again today and wheat speculations was at a loss as to the best course to pursue. Irregularity and conflict were the strongest characteristics of the European advices. The market as a whole was a narrow one, trade at times being absolutely lifeless. After the strong opening there were heavy sales of September wheat, presumably for Armour, which pressed the market down. The close was at the inside figures. December wheat opened from 5½ to 53%c, declined to 57%c, closing at 57%c, %6%c under yesterday. Cash wheat prices were unchanged.

yesterday. Cash wheat percame the changed.

The weakness in wheat overcame the better influences in corn and brought about a decline from yesterday's close of %@\chickstyle="color: blue;">\text{Coron} \text{Web2}.

There was very little new buying during the session, which tended to destroy confidence.

The pit was given over to scalpers most of the day and even they found little to do not times. May corn opened 53\% to 53\%, deat times. May corn opened 53% to 53%, declined to 52%c and closed at 52%c, %6%c under yesterday. Cash corn closed easy; the early trade was steady, but no particular change in prices took place.

The price of oats held up amazingly well in the face of the declines in wheat and corn. Oats are being bought for shipment back to the country and the daily output at this place continues good. May cats closed unchanged from yesterday. Cash oats were unchanged, prices holding steady. Provisions—The strength of the hog maroats were unchanged, prices holding steady. Provisions—The strength of the hog market at the yards and the light receipts there exerted a good influence on products today after the early buyers had obtainval all the stuff they wanted, prices sagging somewhat, but Armour began ito buy shortly before the close, his purchases puting new life into the market. The close was 15c higher than yesterday for January pork, 7½c higher for January lard and 5@7½c higher for January libs.

Lamson Bros. & Co.'s Grain Letter.

By Private Wire to J. C. Knox, Manager. CHICAGO, August 23.—Wheat was very dull with higher prices at the opening on the firm cables and wet weather in England and France. Trade for outside account was extremely light and there was lack of interest on the part of the local waders. September opened at 55, sagged off to 54%, revived on light export demand—two small cargoes of about 50,000 bushels each No. 2 spring being worked, and prices reacted to 55% to 55%. Total clearances of wheat and flour equal 258,000 bushels. A late private dispatch from Liverpool says wheat is firm with an upward tendency. Regardless of the heavy general rains the prospect of English wheat crops is larger than last year, but the quality is unsatisfactory. Even this, together with other reports of the foreign crop being very unsatisfactory as to quality, had no apparent effect on the market, which sagged of its own weight, there being an active absence of sustaining influence. The principal feature for the last day or two is the change over from September to further futures, which is having a depressing effect on the market and doubtless will have until the first of the month, unless a better outside demand springs up or a decrease in receipts, which is not probable, as the spring wheat at primary points is beginning to increase. Corn was firm, but inactive, with prices a shade higher at the opening. There was some selling for outside account by commission houses and although it held firm for a while, it gradually eased off. Reports of desolation in the corn belt by parties connected with elevator interests who have just returned from a trip in the west, had sone little effect on the market, but it was more than offset by the bearish reports from Kansas and Nebraska by Inglis, the crop expert. Wheat feeding operations undoubtedly on the increase. One large lows milling concern says it has no flour for expert, local feeding demand absorbing the supply of wheat of low grades. Should this continue on a v Lamson Bros. & Co.'s Grain Letter.

The Cincinnati Price Current says. "No new developments concerning the corn crop. Rains have done something towards arresting the injury to the late portion of the orop. Production will likely not exceed 160,000,000,000 bushels, nor be under 1,500,000,000 bushels. Wheat seeding operations are manifestly extending. Late information as to spring wheat indicates the total wheat crop may possibly reach 500,000,000."

Enough to Go Around.

From The Wall Street Journal.
The president of a prominent western road said yesterday afternoon: "Unless there is further damage to corn by early frosts, there will be enough corn to go around and the farmers will get so good a price that the gallroads, which do not depend upon a corn toppage, will be presserous. Before the tonnage, will be prosperous. Before the hot winds came we were promised the larg-est corn crop on record, probably approxi-mating 2,500,000,000 bushels. If it has been damaged 40 per cent, there is still a large crop sufficient for the country's needs Nebraska and Kansas have been fatally injured, so far as this year's crop goes, but what is their loss will be the gain of other states. The damage is not the national calamity, which it has been called, and it will be a calamity to only a few railroads.

Mr. Earls's Good Work.

Mr. J. W. Earls, chief rate cierk of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association, has returned from a trip to Cincinnati, where he went on a tedious mission. He has lately compiled and had issued in pamphlet form, a full list of the rates to all points in the south. The work is complete and shows up the labor that was expended on it most strikingly.

He secured the rates from all the rate clerks of the southern country and the book represents a vast deal of labor.

The Meeting at Monigomery.

The coming meeting of the Atlanta and West Point stockholders at Monigomery, to be held within the next two weeks, is attracting not a little attention. There is much talk as to the probable outome of the meeting. Several stories are to the effect that some important changes will be made in the officership of the road. None of these are authentic, however, and are the mercit speculation.

It may be stated as a fact, however, that there is a feeling of uneasiness in the minds of some of the West Point officials regarding the probable result of the meetings. Nothing but the proceedings of the meeting can settle this uneasiness or the floating rumors.

So great was the rush yesterday that a special train had to be run out of this city to Washington on the same schedule with the vestibule limited. The train was taking the advance guard, as it were, from this region of the south. Many of the knights who went on the train were from New Orleans and Texas, and some came up from Mobile and Montgomery. The great bulk of them came to Atlanta over the Western Rallway of Alabama and the Louisville and Nashville.

There will be another special train to go out today on the vestibule schedule. It will be made up of several special cars and will carry toads of knights to the capital city.

Sunday there will be two special trains to go out of Atlanta. One of these will be the regular Georgia train for the knights

Edward J. Faure has worked on a number of southcrn newspapers, among them The Louisville Courier-Journal, The Mempihs Appeal and The Augusta News. He came to Atlanta a fortnight ago to engage in newspaper work, and while here became acquainted with all of the local newspaper men. He is about twenty-four years old, dark and handsome. He is quite talented, and has quite a reputation as an amateur actor. While in Augusta he organized a local min-strel club and made a tour of the surround-ing towns. While in Atlanta he delighted his friends with numerous dramatic recita-

Here's the story that comes from Augusta:
Augusta, Ga., August 23.—(Special.)—Mr
E. J. Faure, a newspaper man, attempted to commit suicide today by shooting himself in his room at the Planters' hotel. Night before last Mr. Faure returned after a two weeks' visit to Atlanta. He seemed to be in his usual good spirits, but last night seemed to be much worried. It was thought to be of no consequence, however. This morning he did not come down to breakfast, and at 11:45 o'clock two pistol shots were heard in the vicinity of room No. 85, on the third floor. Sergeant Morgan and Mr. Joe Bull were the first to reach the unfortunate man's room. They found Mr. Faure sitting in a chair in the middle of the room clothed in a negligee shirt and a pair of white trousers. When the two gentlemen entered, Mr. Faure did not seem a bit worried, and when asked by Mr. Bull what was the matter, replied, that he had accidentally shot himself. He was carried to the bed and Dr. Green summoned. Upon examination is was found that the buillet from a Smith & Wesson 48-call. carried to the bed and Dr. Green summon-ed. Upon examination is was found that the bullet from a Smith & Wesson 48-cali-ber pistol had entered the left side three inches above the heart and struck a bone and took an upward course and came out on the top of the left shoulder. The other shot went wide of its mark, going through the partition of the next room and lodging in the hall.

Mr. Faure was formerly editor of The Evening News, but several months ago resigned and since that time has been out of work. It is thought that financial trouof work. It is thought that mancial trou-bles were the cause of the unfortunate man's attempt to take his life. Mr. Faure was taken to the hospital where he will re-ceive the best medical attention. His home is in New Orleans where his parents live, but he has been in Augusta nearly two years.

A NEW CAPTAIN.

The Atlanta Rifles to Have a New Set of Officers.

For several months matters in military circles have not been particularly interesting and no changes of a decided nature have been made. The Rifles will probably be the first company to break the spell of apparent lethargy.

The Rifles are, so some of the best posted military men say, to have a new captain at no distant day. The new captain will not be exactly new, for he will be an old one newly elected and is no less a person than Captain Macon Spencer, one of the best known commanders in the state.

Only a few days ago a committee from the Rifles called on Captain Spencer. The purpose of the visit was to ascertain his views in regard to again commanding the company.

He took the matter under advisement and later addressed a communication to the committee. It is understood that this communication was encouraging to the Rifles and Captain Spencer is expected to be in command of the company at no very

The Atlanta Riefls have long been considered one of the best military companies in the country. It has won more prizes than any military company in Atlanta and has in its ranks some of the best military material in the south.

While this is true it has not been exempt from dissention in its ranks at times, and like all milkary companies has had some differences of opinions. When Captain Spencer resigned it was during one of these temporary upheavals that soon blow over. He announced at the time that he would retire from the military arena and his resignation created something of a stir in the ranks of the citizen soldiery of the state. Now that it is said he is to return to his old command it is rumored that he will be surrounded by an almost entirely new staff of commissioned officers. Captain Sneed, who was the first commander of the company left the Gate City Guard to accept the office and when he resigned from the Rifles returned to his first love. Captain Sneed was elected captain of the Guard and then began a rivalry, that was exciting, between the two com-

Captain Joseph Nash, now commanding the Rifles, succeeded Captain Spencer. He has made an able officer and while the military is glad to again welcome Captain Spencer the prospect of losing Captain Nash is viewed with regret.

It was charged against the defendant that he had secured credit from Mr. G. K. Pettis by a false statement. He declared that he was the owner of a horse and wagon, and on this statement Mr. Pettis allowed him credit to the extent of $10. As it happened, however, the wagon did not belong to Calhoun, and, according to the indictment, he was arrested on the charge of cheating and swindling.

I never made such a faise statement to Mr. Pettis and he knows it. I owe him $9, the amount of my bill, and I am ready to pay it as soon as I can raise the money. It is persecution and nothraise the money. It is persecution and nothing else. Mr. Pettis knows that I'm a poor man, and he thinks he can get satisfaction out of me by sending me to jail. But he will suffer for it. Mark what I say. God will punish him and his family."

Having delivered himself of this evil prophecy he sat down. A fine of $15 was imposed upon him or thirty days in the penitentiary. He left the room with a satis-fied air, saying as he left, "thank you, judge, thank you."

After the Athletic Club. "If the evidence which I have heard is the truth, there is very little warrant for the name of your club. Instead of promoting a strong and vigorous manhood, it seems to me that every tendency is to break it down. An organization of this character is hurt-ful to the community and, though innocent parties may be connected with it, the effect of such a club is to impair the morals, of the city."

He was speaking to Mr. John Holcombe, who was on trial for running the club.

It was against this new organization, the Athletic Club, that Judge Westmoreland directed his observations of the court in the cour directed his observations, at the same time eyeing the defendant with a keen look of judicial penetration.

This was the caustic language of Judge

"I was not aware that I had violated the law," said Mr. Holcombe, "and when I be-came manager of the club I was assured that everything was legitimate."
Mr. W. T. Moyers, the attorney for Mr. Holcombe, made a brief statement to the court and urged that since the defendant was in the courtroom for the first time in with leniency.

"In view of the extenuating circumstances," said Judge Westmoreland, "and since you have voluntarily entered a plea of guilty I will only fine you $150."
This settled the matter so far as Mr. Holcombe was concerned, and after paying the amount of his fine he was given his liberty.

The Athletic Club is a social organization with headquarters in the old library building on Decatur street. Charges, however, have been preferred against several of the members for gaming and a verdict of guilty was entered against them last Tuesday morning. Mr. Holcombe was acquitted of the charge which was brought against him at the time, viz: that of running a gambling house. Subsequently, however, bench warrants were lasued against Messrs. Loyd, Willingham, Holcombe and Wynn, charging them with running a tippling house. This gives the case a new complication, but since Mr. Holoombe has entered a plea of guilty the others may follow his example.

Mr. Holcomb, who frequently visits the club, has many friends in Atlanta and all of them are now ready to bear him out in the statement he has made relative to the matter. Mr. Holcombe is distressed on ac-count of the nature of the charges against him and in speaking of it yesterday Mr. John F. Wynne, manager of the club, said: "So much has been said about the Atlanta Athletic Association that I deem it necessary to reply to some of these state-ments. There is not a particle of evidence, nor has any been introduced, to prove that a game of cards was ever played in this club. The game which was played by Messrs. Loyd and Holcombe was played previous to the organization of the club and was not in the clubrooms. This particular game was played six weeks before a single membership card was issued to the club, and had no connection with it. The asso-ciation was duly chartered by the court, not only for athletic sport, but for billiards, pool, field sports and other amusements. The name has nothing to do with what is done in the club. The Commercial Club's done in the club. The Commercial Club's name indicates a club for commerce. I don't think they sell anything but whisky and dinners. Now, the intention of this association was to carry out everything mentioned in the charter. A club cannot possibly carry out every feature of its charter without money. This club's charter was granted on March 6, 1894. Since that time to the present we have from the meager source of revenue managed to semeager source of revenue managed to secure for the benefit of the members a nice parlor, a nice reading room, with all the leading daily papers and other periodicals, checkers, chess, dominoes and pool and billiard tables. We are negotiating with an athletic manager for his services. We tried to secure a beschell team and would tried to secure a baseball team and would have done so had the Southern League fail-ed to materialize. Our intention is to have ed to materialize. Our intention is to have a football team, a bleycle track and all gymnasium sports. This will be the finest club in the south. There is an unwarranted amount of prejudice against the club, caused by the raids made by the city detectives, but they failed to establish or prove that there was any gambling within the club. Mr. Holcombe stated positively that the game was not in the clubrooms."

Bailiff Ray Guilty.

A verdict of guilty was returned by the jury yesterday morning in the case of the state against G. A. Ray, a constable in Judge Bloodworth's court, for assault and battery, committed on the person of J. A. Speer, a bailiff in the same court.

Two or three teeth were lost by Bailiff Speer in the difficulty.

Eiseman & Weil 3 WHITEHALL ST TREATING THE WRONG DISEASE.

Many times men and women call on their family paysicians, suffering, as they magine, one from dyspeista, another from heart disease, another from nervous exhaustion or prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they all present, nike to themselves and their easy-going and indifferent or over-busy doctor, separate and distinct diseases, for which he prescribes his pills and potions, assuming them to be such, when, in reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some delicate or private disorder. The physician, ignorant of the cause c. suffering, encourages his practice until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse by reason of the delay, wrong treatment and sussequent compilations. A proper treatment given and directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, threby dispelling all those distressing symptoms and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery.

ONCE MORE IN LINE

Soldiers of Cobb's and Phillips's Legions Have a Rennion.

Some Very Funny Songs Were Heard. Once More on Their First Camping Ground at Big Shanty.

SPEECHES BY THEIR BRAVE LEADERS

They used to say in the army that when Phillips's and Cobb's legions were thrown to the front something was sure to happen. One thing is certain even to this day, when the boys who followed in the trail of the proud banners of these two gallant commands get together they have a way of "rolling em high," as one of them said vesterday.

There is a great reunion of these two legions now going on at Kennesaw, just above Marietta. It began yesterday and will last until tonight.

Last night they were to light the whole country around with a campfire, but owing to the rains and clouds and chilling breezes they decided not to go regularly in camp as contemplated.

In spite of the bad weather, however, there was a great crowd of the old sol-diers present yesterday to take part in the exercises of the day, to enjoy the speeches made by their leaders and to tell over their experiences and find enjoyment in delightful conversation with each other.

It was a fine looking lot of men, too, that gathered there. The Philip's legion men had the day, and today they will fall back and let their comrades of old Cobb's legion go to the front.

All of the men who went to war under the colors of the famous Phillip's legion were great, strong-hearted, brave and courageous men. They were for the most part mountaineers, going from the northern section of the state from out the Blue

General W. Phillips went out from Marietta early in the war and organized what was known as the fourth Georgia brigade. The state of Georgia sent four brigades to the war, and while the organization under General Phillips was known as the fourth it was one of the first organized.

They went in training at the old camp there at Big Shanty, called Kennesaw now, and after a few weeks in camp went to the the camp, one of the gray-headed fellows said: "Well, we went first to Lynchburg. From there we went to h-l, or you'd a-thought so, if you had been there."

Not to speak so figuratively, the Phil-lips's legion went to Lynchburg first and from there went to join Floyd's command under Lee. They fought with Lee for quite awhile. Some of their best fighting was from the very first in western Virginia.

Most of the time in service they were un-der Lee. They went with him to Richmond. They were in all the fights there and were at Fredericksburg. It was there that Phillips's legion stood like an iron gate before the yankees and drove them several times back. While fighting in the front ranks at this battle General T. R. R. Cobb. the gal-lant commander of Cobb's legion, who was right behind the Phillips's legion men at the time, fell dead.

Many an old soldier was at the reunion yesterday who saw him fall. Cobb's legion and Phillips's legion were thrown together in all of the Virginia campaigns and thus they were regarded as one set of met. They were close to each other all the time and now whenever they have their reunions they hold them together.

From Virginia the Phillips's legion men went to South Carolina ander Pemberton, but were not there long before they went back to Virginia and were placed under Longstreet. They went with Longstreet on the Tennessee campaign and arrived at Chicamaugua just in tim to load their guns and begin shooting to take part in the bat-day, "that I just had time to get out of the train and raise my gun to fire with the order. It was a close call, sure, but we soon warmed up to it and had a good deal of fun out of it before we quit." They went back to Virginia by way of Knoxville, with Longstreet, and fought on to the close of the war, surrendering with Lee's army. "We gave up our guns," said one of the boys, yesterday, "but it was just like I told the yankee at the time, they were not our guns. We simply returned the yankees the guns we had borrowed from them in previous engagements.

Many Speeches Heard.

The veterans heard many speeches yes-terday. The programme of the day, which was informal and free, was made up of was informal and free, was made up or songs and speeches.

The exercises opened with prayer, and nearly a thousand of the gray-haired vets were there to bow their heads in reverence when their well-remembered chaplain in the trying days gone by, invoked the blessings of God upon their souls. Rev. W. P. Jones was the chaplain of the legion, and it was his familiar voice that prayed a benediction upon them yesterday. Mr. Reynolds, mayor of Kennesaw, made the address of welcome. He spoke with feeling to the men and bade them thrice welcome to the hospitable little city they had chosen for their place of meeting and from which they had gone out to war. Captain Dick Hargis, president of the legion in modern days, was the next speaker. He scolded some of the men for mixing so in politics, that their duties to the legion had been neglected in the preparation for

He also made a stirring speech, reviewing the days gone by and the many experiences the boys had. He told stories and entertained the veterans for quite a little while. Then Mr. Jones made a speech telling about the days of warfare and recalling many pleasing little incidents.

Mr. Montgomery Folsom, of Atlanta, was called on to respond on behalf of the men of Philip's legion, and did so with a very taking speech. He eloquently praised the men of the grand old command for their gallant deeds and their splendid victories, but said we were Americans now and were loyal to another flag. He was loudly

Captain Newman, of Canton, made a great hit with a speech, full of wit and humor. General Phillips Speaks.

General Philips, who was on hand in the afternoon, was called upon to make a speech to the boys who used to follow him where the fury and storm of shot and shell came stifling over the field. He made a splendid speech and the vets cheered him rapturously. General Philips is one of the most eloquent orators in this whole section of the south, when it comes to talking about the war, and the boys al-ways love to hear him. He told joke after joke on this man and that, which he re-called at the sight of their faces in the vast

He spoke with tender emotion of the memories of the days when he first came to his men there at Big Shanty, how he had his men there at Big Shanty, how he had seen them come in company after company. He remembered that the story was told on the men from Habersham, who came over across the mountains under the command of Captain Barclay, that there were but two of them who had ever seen a railroad. When they got near the place they were to go into camp, they knew they were nearly in sight of a railroad, and when somebody at a farm house told them the tracks of the Western and Atlantic were right over the hill in front, they all broke loose from ranks and had a race to see who would first lay eyes on the concern.

General Philip's speech was well relished by the crowds.

Today with Cobb's Legion. This will be Cobb's legion at the reA number of Atlantians went up last night to camp out and spend the day there among them being Judge Landrum, Captain Culpepper and others. Mr. John Clay Smith will be with the boys, too, and Judge Robert L. Rodgers has consented to go up and carry with him the little flag that was used by the cadets of the Georgia Military institute, who went from Marietta. The history of the flag will be interesting to the veterans.

One of the most interesting side issues of the reunion yesterday was the singing of Captain Culpepper and Judge Landrum, of Atlanta, who were in the army with these commands.

They sang all the old jolly airs they used to sing around the firecamps, and would always bring a laugh when they repeated fifty times the following unchanged little

A man came down to Sandy's mill, The man says, "Sandy, lend me your mill;" Of course I will, says Sandy.

This was sung over and over again, each time Captain Culpepper raising his hand and calling for the next verse, and then leading off on the same old gag. It was a source of great merriment and many voices soon joined in until it sounded much like the echoes of the camps when they were on the hilltops of Virginia.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS AND FORECAST

Rainy weather prevailed over most of the south yesterday. Reports show that the rainfall, though quite general, was very unevenly distributed. Many places reported more than ordinarily heavy rains, while at other places there were but little more than sprinkles. At a few southern points, mostly in the Carolinas, eastern Tennessee, Arkansas and western Texas, there was no rain at all. Fair weather generwas no rain at all. Fair weather generally prevailed throughout the north. Of the heavy rains recorded in the twenty-

the heavy rains recorded in the twentyfour hours ending at 5 o'clock yesterday evening the most noteworthy were as follows: Columbus, Ga., 1.68 inches; West Point, Ga., 2.00 inches; Opelika, Ala., 3.60 inches; Umon Springs, Ala., 5.00 inches.
The latter rainfall is one of the heaviest twenty-four-hour rainfalls reported anywhere in the United States this year

The weather continues warm throughout the country west of the Mississippi river.
East of the Mississippi it was cool yesterday at most southern points and warm in the northern cities. In Memphis the maximum temperature was but 76 degrees and in Atlanta 77 degrees. At New York city the mercury was up to 90 degrees. The highest temperature anywhere was 96 degrees at Omaha, Neb.

On Saturday morning, August 25th, the Southern railway (formerly E. T., V. and G. railway) will sell for their train leaving Atlanta at 8 a. m., round-trip tickets to be good to return on above train leaving Chattanooga Sunday night, August 26th, 1115 p.

chattanooga Sunday night, August 28th, 11:15 p. m.

This is a most excellent opportunity to visit the thriving city of Chattanooga and historic Lookout mountain, and will be taken advantage of by mary people from Atlanta and the surrounding country.

There will be ample accommodation for all. The Southern railway is the only line running through vestibule trains, with free observation chair car attached.

Trains on the railway lines leading to Lookout mountain make connection with the trains of the Southern railway, so that passengers will experience no difficulty in visiting the mountain if they desire.

The ticket office of the entire system of the Southern railway, corner Kimball house, will be open at 6 a. m., and passengers can secure tickets at that office or at the union ticket office.

A WHOLE UNIVERSITY

The Comprehensive Scope of the Grent Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Webster gives as the root meaning of the word encyclopaedia "the circle of the arts and sciences." No more complete example of embracing the whole range of human knowledge under this head can be found than in the immense work, as high in quality as it is comprehensive in scope, the new Encyclopaedia Britannica, now offered by The Constitution. It may be fitly styled "a university in the home," as every department of learning is set forth by specialists of the highest rank.

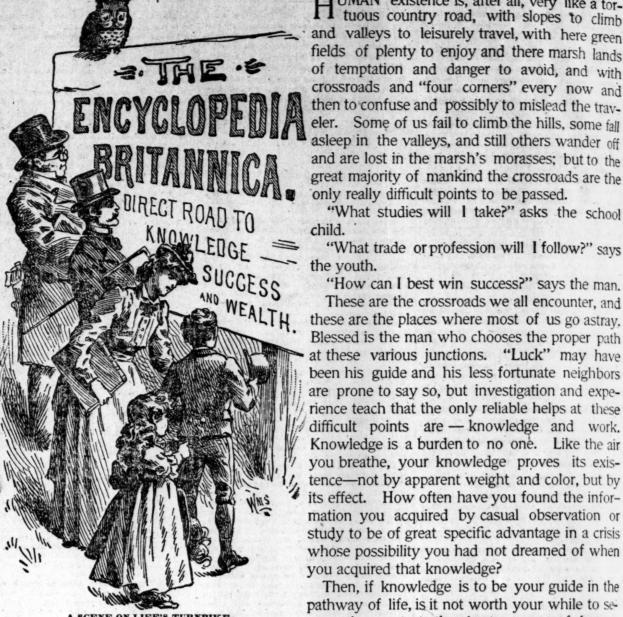

American enterprise has placed this possibility before you—the greatest educational work that Great Britain and America have produced—a complete and perfect library in itself and education—the great Encyclopaedia Britannica. This you can make your own for the outlay of that paltry 10 cents a day which you did not know what to do with. It is the most compact magazine of universal knowledge extant. It contains everything worth knowing, made as attractive and interesting and clear as ingenuity can make it. Grent Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Road to Success

HUMAN existence is, after all, very like a tortuous country road, with slopes to climb and valleys to leisurely travel, with here green fields of plenty to enjoy and there marsh lands of temptation and danger to avoid, and with crossroads and "four corners" every now and then to confuse and possibly to mislead the traveler. Some of us fail to climb the hills, some fall asleep in the valleys, and still others wander off and are lost in the marsh's morasses; but to the great majority of mankind the crossroads are the only really difficult points to be passed.

"What studies will I take?" asks the school child.

"What trade or profession will I follow?" says

"How can I best win success?" says the man. These are the crossroads we all encounter, and these are the places where most of us go astray. Blessed is the man who chooses the proper path at these various junctions. "Luck" may have been his guide and his less fortunate neighbors are prone to say so, but investigation and experience teach that the only reliable helps at these difficult points are - knowledge and work. Knowledge is a burden to no one. Like the air you breathe, your knowledge proves its existence—not by apparent weight and color, but by its effect. How often have you found the information you acquired by casual observation or you acquired that knowledge? Then, if knowledge is to be your guide in the pathway of life, is it not worth your while to secure the greatest, the best source of human knowledge extant, when that source is, by American enterprise, placed within your reach? In the ENCYCLOPÆDIA BRITANNICA the child will find matter to interest his little mind and give him food for thought along the line of his natural bent; the youth will find life stories and professional and mechanical information to enable him to wisely choose his life work, and the adult will have his mind broadened, his intellect quickened and his information extended to such a degree by it that he will be enabled to take the advantage of opportunities that he otherwise would not see. Thus it is a guideboard for all. The Encyclopædia Britannica is the WISDOM OF THE WORLD concentrated. It should be in every home. The Constitution subscribers can secure this work at a specially low introductory price and on the very easy installment of only 10 cents a day.

1. That this new edition is now offered to the public for the first time.

2. That it is complete in 28 Royal Octavo Volumes. 3. That it is the only up-to-date edition of the Encyclopædia Britannica in print.

4. That you are invited to call and examine the work at The Constitution's Reading Room, ground floor, Equitable 58 Whitehall street.

5. That it has an entire equipment of new maps, produced at a cost of $30,000. That it is superior to the Edinburgh edition, which cost $8.00 per volume.

That for a short time only this great library will be offered at introductory rates.

8. That those ordering now can have half the set delivered at once, with the privilege of paying for them at the easy rate of only to cents a day. 9. That if you pay only $5.00 a month, the entire set of twenty-eight volumes will be delivered at once.

GEORGIA, FULTON COUNTY—To the Superior Court of Said County: The petition of C. E. Bothwell, Arthur Heyman and Malvern Hill, all of said state and county, respectfully shows:

That they desire for themselves and their associates to be incorporated for the period of twenty years, with the privilege of renewal, under the firm name and style of "The Georgia Glass Co.," with a capital stock of one thousand dollars, fifty per cent of which has actually been paid in. Petitioners desire the privilege of increasing their capital stock to any amount not exceeding ten thousand dollars, whenever in the judgment of a majority of the stock-nolders of the company it may be deemed desirable so to do.

The object and purpose of this incorporation is pecuniary gain for its stockholders, and the particular business they desire to carry on is manufacturing, buying, selling and dealing in for themselves on consignment and otherwise, at wholesale and retail, bottles, jars, plain and fancy glass ware of all descriptions, corks, bungs, packing and similar articles of merchandise.

Incident to the prosecution of their business, petitioners desire the right to make contracts, sue and be sued, to have and use a common seal, to buy, lease, sell, mortgage or otherwise encumber real estate and personal property, to borrow money and make notes, securing the same by mortgage, bonds or otherwise, to have all the rights accorded to corporations of a like character under the law, particularly those conferred by section 1676 of the code of Georgia, and to do all things necessary or useful in carrying out the objects of the incorporation. The office and principal place of doing business of said company is to be in Atlanta, Ga.

Wherefore, petitioners pray 2n order of incorporation and your petitioners will ever pray, etc.

Some Events of the Future-Gossip About Social Events and Matters Pertaining Thereto.

Miss Adelia Murphy gave a delightful card party in honor of Miss Elizabeth Thornton on Wedaesday afternoon, at her beautiful home in West End. The handsome home, with its generous, sloping lawns and pretty gardens, is a lovely one for the open air afternoon affair, and the wise hostess feeling this, had the card tables placed beneath the trees instead of entertaining her guests in the prevailing, warm indoor fashion. There was a fine array of faultless summer gowns, making the picture quite as charming as a Watteau panel.

array of faultiess summer gowns, making the picture quite as charming as a Watteau panel.

Miss Thornton was picturesque and lovely in a white organdle whose collar of American Beauty satin set off to perfection the velvety softness of her dark eyes and the glowing loveliness of her complexion. The prizes delivered at the close of the game were won as follows:

First prize, silver powder box, won by Miss Winship, of Macon; second prize, silver nail file, won by Miss Gussie Grady; third prize, silver and cut glass vinaigrette, won by Miss Thornton. Those present were: Miss Murphy, Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. Tanner, Mrs. Sciple, Miss Emily English, Miss Gussie Grady, Miss Jennie English, Miss Dougherty, Miss Nellie Hayden, Miss Ida Howell, Miss Lollie Markham, Miss Van Winkle, Miss Bainbridge, Miss Stocker, Miss Winship of Macon, Miss Estes of Talbotton, Miss Thornton of LeGhange, Miss botton, Miss Thornton of LeGhange, Miss Lucy Dougherty, Mrs. Harris, Mrs. Ogles-by, Mrs. Albert Howell, Mrs. Dick Gray, Mrs. Holland, Mrs. Hightower, Mrs. Mc-Conico, Mrs. Todd, Mrs. Wells and Mrs. Hall.

Mrs. Nellie Peters Black, whose name has recently been added to the executive board of the woman's department of the exposition, is in every way a great acquiexposition, is in every way a great acquisition to that body of well-chosen women. She brings to all her undertakings a fine intelligence, broad, human and comprehensive. She is a woman accustomed to dealing with all sorts and conditions of people having been thrown into the very hearts of humanity by the charitable work thy, her keen understanding and her power of self-forgetfulness all make her a strong-hold of comfort and help in the position which she now holds.

She talks always practically and frequentby eloquently upon the plans for the wo-man's building, which she has especially at heart, and she is ever ready to sym-pathize with and assist in the plans of others.

Among the residents of Atlanta who have assisted in entertaining the audiences at the Demorest chautauqua, none have added more to their pleasure than Mrs. T. H.

who had not heard her before.

She has a voice of remarkable power and sweetness, and is a thorough musician in every sense of the word. Aside from her work at Demorest, Mrs. Wingfield accompanied Miss Wuertz and Mr. L. P. Hills, to Gainesville and Tallulah Falls, and added much to the success of the success of the success of the second series added much to the success of the concerts

A GREAT PROPHET,

What He Has to Say About Foretell-ing the Weather and Preserving the Probably no man connected with the weather department is so well known or popular as Sergeant Elias B. Dunn, who has charge of the bureau in New York city. He is a bright, happy man with a clear eye and a springy gart, although his duties and cares are numerous.

clear eye and a springy gait, although his duties and cares are numerous.

"How do I keel well and fat and chipper?" he said recently to a newspaper man who asked him the question. "Why, I look after my health carefully, that's all. No matter how hard the gales may be or how much responsibility for the weather I have on my shoulders, I look out for my digestion very carefully. I am a firm believer in modern discoveries and I have found that the pre-digested idod, Paskola, does wenderful things for those who us it. I us it in my family and find that it not only is a food that enters quickwho us it. I us it in my family and find that it not only is a food that enters quickly into the blood and life, but that it aids all other food to digest. People who wish to be up to the times and avail themselves of all modern discoveries or improvements should by all means use Paskola. If you are not thoroughly posted about it and want to know more, go around to the company's office at 30 Reade street, New York city, or better still send for a pamphlet giving full particulars about it. I tell you, you will never regret it. Sergeant Dunn evidently believes thoroughly in everything he undertakes, and he is just now utilizing the electric search light in which he is interested, in throwing the word Paskola upon the clouds and walls where the light is employed. All that ran be learned from what he says regarding Paskola is more than true, and it is by no means surprising that it has become so popular.

A palaphlet fully describing Paskola and what it does, will be sent free to any address, by the Pre-digested Food Company, 30 Reade street, New York.

IN GRAND ARRAY.

Atlanta Knights Preparing to March on Washington Sunday.

THEY WILL DRILL EVERY NIGHT

Every night this week the spacious hall in the Venable building, corner South Forsyth and West Hnter streets, will be alive with Knights of Pythias, drilling for the grand conclave of Knights at Washington, D. C., beginning Saturday.

Tuesday night the last business meeting of Gate City Division No. 5, which is to be held prior to leaving for Washington, was held at the rooms on South Forsyth street. The meeting was purely a business one, and was for the purpose of receiving reports from the committees which have been at work since the last meeting to get up sufficient funds to defray the expenses of the trip, supplemented by the amounts already subscribed by the various lodges of the city.

The reports were highly satisfactory and showed that the people appreciate to its full value the valiant order of Knights of Pythias. The responses were such as to make the work of the committee much lighter than expected. While the public has been very liberal in subscribing to the fund, the knights will have to go down into their own pockets to a considerable extent. The meeting last night was an enthusiastic one, and numbers of knights de-clared their intention of going to the great conclave. They are looking forward to the Washington trip with great anticipation. The practice which the knights will have this week w.l fit them for making an excellent show on Pennsylvania avenue one week from today, when the great parado occurs. They will be drilled every night during the week, including Saturday night. They leave for Washington on a special train next Saturday at noon. The train on which they will go will be an elegant one, and will be a second section of the Southern railway vestibuled. The special train will carry the First Georgia regiment of sir knights. On board will be the Uniform Ranks of Atlanta, Sir Knight W. H. Harrison in charge; from Macon, Sir Knight M. R. Freeman, captain; from West Point, Sir Knight J. J. Smith. These will compose the First regiment, with divisions from Savannah, Augusta and Charleston, who will join the special train at Charlotte. Nearly two hundred knights, gallantly arrayed, will be in the party when it leaves Atlanta. Nearly a hundred more will join them at Washington.

The conclave at Washington, which is

The conclave at Washington, which is drawing so many knights to the capital city, is the greatest event in Pythianism in years. Nearly a hundred thousand knights from every city in the country will be present, and fully 80,000 are expected to march in the grand procession through Washington next Tuesday.

The knights will live in tents creeted in The knights will live in tents erected in the open space around the Washington monument, and will remain in Washington about a week. This city of tents will be built in regular military style and the knights from a hundred cities w'l revel in jolly comradery. This tent life feature will be one of the pleasantest of the entire trip. The tents will make a sight well worth processing the continuous statement. worth seeing and one entirely new in

The First Georgia regiment will be in command of Colonel R. F. Harmon, one of the best known and most enthusiastic knights in Georgia. He will have command of them during the entire stay in Wash

Southern is taking especial pride in fitting up an elegant train for the knights. They will reach Washington at 7 o'clock next Monday morning, on which day the work of the gleat conclave will begin. Atlanta will be splendidly repre-sented there.
